RAILROAD SHOPS OPERATING FULL FORCE ONCE MORE

All Men Returned to Work
This Morning Under Agreement Made Sunday.

Grievances Will Be Taken Up
In Order.

NO STATEMENT IS GIVEN OUT.

Back to the shops!
This morning was good over the city this morning as the hundreds of employees of the Illinois Central railroad shops returned to their work. The trouble, resulting in the walkout of the employees last Wednesday and Thursday, was adjusted satisfactorily late Sunday afternoon after a several hours' conference between the union leaders and the Illinois Central officials.

Terms of the settlement were not given out to the public, and both the men and the officials retained a silence that could not be broken. The only information given out to the press by either side was this written statement: "The trouble at Paducah has been satisfactorily settled and all men are to go back to work."

Beyond that they refused to talk, and declined to answer questions.

This morning Q. P. Wallace, one of the foremen whom the men opposed, was at his regular post as foreman, while Houston McClure, temporary foreman during the absence of R. R. Sutherland, fire and police commissioner, was also on duty. However, it is said that the trouble over F. A. Milliken as foreman, adjusted itself. With the return of Leonard Phelps, the regular foreman, and Milliken returned to the ranks.

It is said that it was agreed to dispose of the questions of the foremen in the regular way. Written charges have been preferred. It is rumored, and the question of removing the foreman will be taken up by the officials in Chicago in ten days.

Whether the railroad officials recognized the general committee is an open question. It was given out that the officials recognized the committee first Saturday afternoon, when a conference was held. Sunday afternoon the committee went into conference with the officials at 1:30 o'clock, and remained in session until about 5 o'clock, when it was announced that the trouble had been adjusted. However, today it was intimated that the officials did not recognize the general committee, but met the committees separately, as the officials were willing to do since the trouble began. Another report is that the committee was recognized but the question of inserting it in the contract will be taken up in Chicago later.

All Back at Work.
All the employees returned to work, including the carmen at Princeton, Cedar Bluff, and Hopkinsville. The blacksmiths have a small grievance independent of the regular trouble, and last night A. L. Carr, of Clinton, Ill., president of the blacksmiths, and B. R. Cleary, the local representative, left for Chicago, where they will take up the grievance with the officials.

Representing the carmen, Martin F. Ryan, of Kansas City, Mo., general president of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, arrived yesterday afternoon at 3:40 o'clock, shortly before the trouble was settled. Mr. Ryan will meet the carmen tonight, and will return to his home tomorrow. O. L. Sanborn, chairman of the joint protective board has been in the city for several days, while G. L. Dry, secretary-treasurer of Carbondale, Ill., was also in the city today.

Officials Still Here.
The officials of the Illinois Central remained in the city today, but late this afternoon will return to Chicago. R. W. Bell, superintendent of machinery; J. M. Borrowdale, superintendent of the car department; and A. H. Egan, superintendent.

Walter Wellman Has Broken All Records For Continuous Flight In Aeroplane--May Be in Trouble

JULIA WARD HOWE.

Boston, Oct. 17.—Julia Ward Howe, authoress of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," died today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Maude Howe Elliott, at South Portsmouth, R. I. Mrs. Howe had been ill there for several weeks. She was born in New York, May 27, 1819.

ent of the Louisville division, who have been on the scene of the trouble were in the city, and visited the shops today.

The business men of the city were well pleased to hear the adjustment of the walkout, as with the spreading of the trouble Saturday it looked as if the clouds might become blacker. The carmen walked out Wednesday about noon. All organized labor walked out Thursday morning. The shops were closed four days. Immediately after the adjustment of the walkout, the night men returned to work last night, while all of the day employees returned to work this morning.

A DOUBLE WEDDING AT THE COURT HOUSE TODAY.

At the court house today at noon when Magistrate C. W. Emery by a single ceremony united W. H. Fraught and Nancy Darnell and James Jack and Lizzie Bruntly. With the exception of Miss Bruntly, all the principals had been to the wedding altar before. They reside in Marion, Ill., and came to Paducah for a quiet marriage and to escape their friends.

Fractures Thigh

By a fall from a hickory nut tree, David Lewis, the fourteen-year-old son of Mrs. Lela Wade Lewis, of Sixth and Washington streets, fractured his right thigh Saturday afternoon. With some companions he was gathering hickory nuts, when he slipped while climbing a tree and fell 20 feet to the ground. Today he was resting easy at Riverside hospital.

BOILERMAKERS OF I. C. IN SESSION

ROUTINE BUSINESS OF CON-VENTION COMMENCED HERE
TODAY.

In annual session, the delegates of the International Boilermakers and Iron Ship Builders and Helpers of America, for the Illinois Central system, are in session today at the Central Labor Hall, Sixth street and Broadway. The delegates will be in session for several days. About 30 delegates were present today. More members will arrive tonight. The business today was routine and consisted chiefly of the reading of reports. The meetings are presided over by Anthony Seng, of Chicago. The other officers are: B. C. Beadles, of Paducah, vice-president; R. J. Curran, of Chicago, secretary-treasurer; A. Smith, of McComb, Miss., recording secretary; and R. J. Powers, of Chicago, assistant secretary.

E. T. Telephone Co. Scores On the City

The last resort for the city of Paducah in its litigation with the East Tennessee Telephone company will be the United States Supreme court. This was made evident today when City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., received word from the United States circuit court of appeals at Cincinnati that the telephone company's motion to dismiss the city's appeal to that tribunal has been sustained. This will result in the case being taken to the highest court in the United States for the final opinion. City Solicitor Campbell will file the appeal as soon as he prepares his records, which will consume several weeks. The city and the telephone company have been fighting for several years because the company refused to buy a franchise entitling it to erect poles in the city for the purpose of stringing wires for the operation of a telephone system. The case was decided in favor of the telephone company in the United States court at Louisville, but the city appealed.

Electrical Storm over Atlantic Makes Friends Apprehen- sive For His Safety--Wire- less Seeking Balloon.

Siasconsett, Mass., Oct. 17.—All records for continuous flight in a dirigible have been broken by Walter Wellman in the airship "America," in which he and a crew of six, are attempting to fly to Europe. The former record of 37 hours was held by Count Zeppelin. At 10:30 o'clock this morning Wellman had been 50 hours in the air. The Atlantic ocean off the northeast coast today is being combed by wireless in the fear that the balloon has been disabled in an electrical storm, reported to be raging off Cape Sable. The storm has caused alarm among enthusiasts here. A government tug will be sent to rescue the party, if bad news is received. Transatlantic lines continue on the lookout for wireless flashes from Wellman. The land stations must receive them through vessels.

ANOTHER CARRIER FOR POSTOFFICE

MR. FISHER COMBINES BUSI-NESS WITH PLEASURE ON HIS TRIP.

Into a practically new office Postmaster Frank M. Fisher stepped this morning when he went to the post-office. He has been on a trip through the east for three weeks, and during his absence his office was repaired. The woodwork was painted, a red Brussels carpet laid on the floor and a new desk installed. While away Mr. Fisher attended the National Postmasters' convention at Richmond. After the adjournment he took a steamer at Norfolk and went to Boston after a two days' trip at sea. From Boston he motored to Beverly, the summer home of President Taft. Some time was spent in the White mountains. In returning he passed through Washington. While in the capital Mr. Fisher secured another carrier for Paducah, which increases the number to 15, and also a new clerk. The clerk will begin his duties immediately, while the new carrier will be installed in a few weeks. The business of the local postoffice is increasing rapidly and the additional help is needed.

GRIFFITH'S BODY WILL ARRIVE HERE TONIGHT.

The body of Urey Griffith, 20 years old, who committed suicide in Chicago Saturday, is expected to arrive in Paducah tonight or early tomorrow morning. No details of his death have been received in the city by relatives. He left Paducah a week ago to spend some time in Chicago with his sister, Mrs. Isabelle Rorie, but became despondent. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. J. H. Langston, 1814 Harrison street. The Rev. G. W. Banks officiating. The burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery.

Did Not Come to Paducah.

In spite of efforts to locate them the two daughters of Robert Blelock, of Murray, who ran away from home last Thursday, have still not been located. The police at Paducah were notified last night, but the girls unquestionably did not come to Paducah. They are 14 and 15 years old respectively and wear short dresses.

RIOT IN CANAAN MAKES BLOOD FLOW FREELY

Canaan, that "quiet" little settlement on the south side that causes Constable A. C. Shelton the loss of many hours of sleep, was awake Saturday night. According to Constable Shelton the turmoil eclipsed all previous disturbances. Part of the population is alleged to have participated in a free-for-all-drag-out fight and several are said to have been handled more roughly than usual. A negro was clubbed over the head with a beer bottle until he was senseless and covered with blood. Constable Shelton with other county officials are investigating the riot and warrants are expected this afternoon or tomorrow.

CRIPPEN'S TRIAL OPENS TOMORROW

WILL BE ARRAIGNED IN OLD BAILEY FOR MURDER OF WIFE.

London, Oct. 17.—The trial of Dr. H. H. Crippen for the murder of his wife, Belle Elmore, will begin tomorrow in Old Bailey. Chief Justice Alverstone will preside, indicating the importance of the case. The king's counsel, Muir, will conduct the prosecution. Barrister Tobin will defend Crippen, prompted by Solicitor Newton, who is eligible to practice only in the civil court and not in the criminal court. It is generally believed the defense will demand immediately that the chief justice instruct the jury to acquit Crippen.

Freight Rates Reduced

Washington, Oct. 17.—As a result of a decision today by the supreme court, orders of the interstate commerce commission will be effective in 30 days reducing freight rates on class articles from Mississippi river to Missouri river points and Chicago and St. Louis to Denver. A petition for a rehearing was denied.

Burley Pool Goes to Pieces and It Dumps 200,000,000 Pounds on Market, Affecting Dark Prices

Review of Situation In Black Patch Shows Growers and Buyers Far Apart, With Last Year's Prices in Sight.

While dark tobacco growers will realize a good price for their product this year, the break of the burley pool is bound to react on the Black Patch markets, according to dealers in western Kentucky. With the season only about two weeks off the growers and buyers are far apart and there are just now small prospects of heavy early deliveries. Farmers are holding their product for nine and ten cents around. Some sixty or seventy thousand pounds delivered last week at Paducah and Mayfield brought approximately six cents for leaf and four for lugs. The discrepancy between what the farmers are demanding, and what speculators are paying on the loose leaf market for early deliveries indicates the unsettled condition of the market. The speculators don't know yet what the season will bring forth. However, the most competent observers predict that the planters will receive an average of seven and a half cents a pound, which they say equals 15 cent cotton and dollar wheat as a paying product.

Last year after the holidays tobacco in the western district went up approximately a dollar a hundred and the farmers who sold early last year, though they received a good price, are a little offish about taking the first money offered them this year. Crop and market conditions are both to be considered in estimating the price to be paid. Just as matters stand, there is little activity on the part of buyers. They think the farmer is asking too much and they are waiting for him to come down. Speculators can't touch the price asked. But the next two or three weeks, when other work is out of the way and the farmer has stemmed his tobacco and is anxious to get it off his hands, may make a wonderful difference in the situation.

The crop is better and larger than last year. This is the testimony of all buyers, who have been over the district. It should command a higher average than that of last year on the same basis of prices; but buyers say the price basis will be slightly under last year's and the farmer will average about the same, probably.

The English market is disturbed by the new tariff. The Lloyd-George budget has put on a tax that practically eliminates the independent dealer from the market. There is an agitation for a revision of the tax, and consequently, buyers are staying off the market in anticipation of the change. This is felt in the Black Patch, more particularly in the Henderson stemming district; but the western district sells a considerable quantity in England, and the demand for that weed is seriously abated. Buyers for other markets are taking account of this factor.

Then the break in the Burley pool, throwing 200,000,000 pounds of the 1910 crop on a market already burdened with 100,000,000 pounds of the 1909 pool is bound to affect the whole tobacco market, according to the wise ones. It seems that banks were tired of holding all that tobacco as collateral, and the farmers were tired of waiting for their money and losing the use of it. The pool broke Hooks Defeat Boilermakers.

The B. B. Hooks defeated the Illinois Central railroad boilermakers yesterday afternoon at League park by a score of 10 to 5. Dicke, twirler for the boilermakers, was knocked out of the box in the fourth inning, and Block, who was catching, took the mound and finished out the rest of the game. Hanners and Brahe were the battery for the Hooks. The Hooks will probably play Golconda next Sunday on the Illinois soil.

ALLEGED PITTSBURGH BRIBER MUST RETURN

Washington, Oct. 17.—By a ruling of the United States supreme court today, Frank N. Hoffstock, millionaire steel magnate, must return to Pennsylvania from New York and stand trial on charges of accepting bribes with councilmanic and graft.

CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES OPENS AT PHILADELPHIA

Chicago Cubs and Athletics
Representing Two Big Leagues Today.

Score of Games by Innings Received Here.

ATHLETICS TAKE THE FIRST.

The Evening Sun will receive and bulletin the reports of the world's championship baseball series by innings, and still be pleased to furnish news of the game to telephone in-quirers.

Shibe Park, Philadelphia, Oct. 17.

Surrounded by 33,000 baseball fans and under conditions of sufficient intensity and excitement to make the scene dramatic, the Philadelphia Athletics and the Chicago Cubs, this afternoon began the fight for the championship of the whole world. It was the biggest baseball day Philadelphia has ever known. Weather conditions are ideal.

Owing to the crowded grounds, rules were necessary, which allowed two bases on a hit beyond the ropes. Connolly, of the American League, was chosen to give balls and strikes, and O'Day to give base decisions. Rigger and Sheridan were stationed in the outfield.

The Cubs remain a favorite in betting, a $1,000 to $700 wager being recorded shortly after noon. T. Mas caught and Bender pitched for the Athletics. Overall and Kling were the Cubs' batteries. Promptly at 3:15 the game was called.

The teams lined up:

Chicago—Sheppard, 1f; Schulte, rf; Hoffman, cf; Chance, 1b; Zimmerman, 2b; Steinfield, 3b; Tinker, ss; Kling, c; Overall, p.

Philadelphia—Lord, 1f; McInnes, cf; Collins, 2b; Baker, 3b; Davis, 1b; Murphy, rf; Barry, ss; Thomas, c; Bender, p.

First Inning—Cubs—Sheppard at the bat hit the first ball pitched for a foul over left bleachers. Sheppard fanned. Schulte singled to left. Schulte out stealing second. Thomas to Collins. Hoffman out, Collins to Davis. No runs.

Athletics—Strunk bunted towards third, out. Steinfield, to Chance. Lord flew to Hoffman. Collins singled over Steinfield and was thrown out when he broke for second on a throw from Kling to Tinker. No runs.

Second—Cubs—Chance to short, thrown out by Barry. Zimmerman fouled to Baker. Steinfield hit to Baker, out at first. No runs.

Athletics—Baker doubled to left, Davis sacrificed, Chance to Zimmerman, Baker went to third. Murphy singled to left. Baker scored. Berry out, Steinfield to Chance. Murphy reached third. Thomas walked. Bender hit to Zimmerman, who fumbled allowing Murphy to score. Thomas went to second. Strunk new to Sheppard. Two runs.

Third—Cubs—Tinker grounded to Collins and was out. Kling, with two strikes and three balls, hit straight up. Bender caught him out. Overall hit to Berry and was out at first. Athletics—Lord hit over Hoffman for two bases. Collins sacrificed, Chance to Zimmerman. Lord took third. Baker singled to left, scored. Lord. Davis fanned. Baker out on an attempted steal, Kling to Tinker. One run.

Fourth Inning—Cubs—Sheppard grounded to Berry, and was out at first. Schulte walked. Hoffman fanned. Schulte out, stealing. Thomas to Collins. No runs. McInnes succeeded Overall in the box.

Athletics—Murphy hit to Tinker, and was out. Berry out, Steinfield to Chance. Thomas fanned. No runs.

Fifth Inning—Cubs—Chance hit to Collins, out at first. Zimmerman fanned. Steinfield fanned. No runs.

Athletics—Bender fanned. Strunk walked. He was out stealing. Kling to Tinker, out on catch.

Sixth Inning—Cubs—Tinker flew to Strunk. Kling flew to Murphy. McInnes fanned. No runs.

Athletics—Collins hit to Zimmerman and was out at first. Baker hit through the box, but Tinker tossed him out at first. Davis was out, Zimmerman to Chance. No runs.

Seventh Inning—Cubs—Sheppard was out, Berry to Davis. Schulte fanned. Hoffman hit to third out at

STOCK EXCHANGE ACTIVITY MARKED

TENDENCY OF PRICES IS STEADILY UPWARD.

Political Situation Not So Aggravating — Money Is Now Easier.

GENERAL BUSINESS IS QUIET

New York, Oct. 17.—Activity on the Stock Exchange increased in spite of intervention of the holidays, and the undertone of the market was strong, the tendency of prices being steadily upwards. The influence contributing chiefly towards reviving confidence was the October crop report. This removed all doubt concerning the corn crop; the government report exceeding even the most sanguine expectations of a 3,000,000,000 bushel crop. Corn is king not only because of its great money value, but because of the numerous directions in which it is used both for domestic and industrial purposes. In money value it exceeds both wheat and cotton combined. The wheat yield, though not what was desired, has exceeded early expectations, and a large crop of oats has also been garnered. The yield of cotton has been disappointing; but, so far as the South is concerned, this will be fully compensated for by enhanced prices. All doubts concerning the crops are now out of the way, except cotton, which will be subject to danger from early frost for at least another two weeks. Since the harvest is the most important element in our national prosperity, it is a source of satisfaction that this factor of uncertainty is now permanently eliminated.

Politics.
The political outlook, another well-worn element of doubt, is steadily improving. Radicalism is being rebuked in all directions; issues have now been clearly defined, and seem to depend very largely upon personality. The comparative lack of interest in election issues is shown by the falling off in registration in all parts of the country compared with previous years. It is taken for granted that Republicans will have to face considerable losses at the polls next November, and there is some probability that the next congress may become Democratic. This fact, however, appears to cause little real uneasiness, and the elections are certainly a much less threatening element than two or three months ago. It is also a noticeable fact that public opinion is becoming less hostile to corporations; this being due partly to public recognition of the fact that corporations are here to stay, and partly to the fact that managers of the latter recognize that they must submit to some form of regulation, obey the law and show a decent regard for public opinion. The change in the latter respect manifested in various quarters is highly encouraging as tending to disarm much of public criticism. No one now seriously fears the forthcoming supreme court decisions on the oil, tobacco and other cases. The court may force reorganization, but is not going to destroy probably have no further injurious effect than the famous Northern Securities case. No harm but good followed that decision. The prospects of the railroads securing reasonable treatment from the interstate commerce commission are daily increasing. So that question is also nearing solution. In this connection President McCreary's address on behalf of the Pennsylvania before the interstate commerce commission was a striking feature. His argument for better rates was temperate, strong and based upon well known facts. It will no doubt have much weight with the commission and do much towards securing

BEGAN YOUNG Had "Coffee Nerves" From Youth.

"When very young I began using coffee and continued up to the past six months," writes a Texas girl. "I had been exceedingly nervous, thin and very sallow. After quitting coffee and drinking Postum about a month my nervousness disappeared and has never returned. This is the more remarkable as I am a primary teacher and have kept right on with my work.
"My complexion now is clear and rosy, my skin soft and smooth. As a good complexion was something I had greatly desired, I feel amply repaid even though this were the only benefit derived from drinking Postum.
"Before beginning its use I had suffered greatly from indigestion and headache; these troubles are now unknown.
"The change from coffee to Postum was made without the slightest inconvenience, did not even have a headache. Have known coffee drinkers who were visiting me to use Postum a week without being aware that they were not drinking coffee.
"I have known several to begin the use of Postum and drop it because they did not boil it properly. After knowing how it should be prepared they have tried it again and pronounced it delicious."

reasonable treatment for the railroads.

Money.

The money situation is much better than expected; the stringency anticipated this fall having thus far not materialized. The surplus reserve of New York banks is now down to a rather low level, but regular trade demands are less than usual, and bankers are persistently discouraging undue speculation. It is quite possible that firm spells may be experienced between now and the first of January, but no crisis is anticipated. Perhaps the worst feature in the situation is the excess of loans over deposits observed in recent bank statements in various parts of the country. This is a significant development and will bear watching. Money is firm in Europe, which will tend to discourage gold exports to this country. Our foreign trade, however, is assuming more normal proportions, and our exports of agricultural products especially are increasing noticeably. In September they were ahead of last year, and it would cause no surprise if in October they would also exceed last year in value. Cotton shipments have been rushed forward in anticipation of a deadlock over the cotton bills controversy. After October 31 British bankers will discontinue guaranteeing cotton bills, unless some agreement is made with bankers on this side. Of course some settlement is inevitable; for Britain is just as much in need of our cotton as we are of her money. The latest project is the creation of a corporation to guarantee cotton bills upon terms agreed to by both sides. Nevertheless, a deadlock or trial of strength may happen before reaching a settlement, and the rush movement of cotton which is now going on is no doubt to enable the British bankers to take a firmer stand, if necessary.

Business.

General business is quiet and smaller in volume than a year ago. There has been a large shrinkage in bank clearings, amounting to 16 per cent in the month of September. This, however, is explained by a shrinkage of 26 per cent in the clearings at New York, which alone constitute more than half the entire clearings of the country. In this city the loss in clearings was, of course, very largely due to diminished speculative activity. In other leading cities the decline for the month was much less noticeable. For instance, Philadelphia showed a loss of 5 per cent, Boston 8 per cent and Chicago 4 per cent, while Baltimore showed an increase of 16 per cent. Kansas City 8 per cent, Minneapolis 17 per cent, San Francisco 13 per cent, Los Angeles 2 per cent, St. Louis 2 per cent, New Orleans 4 per cent, Galveston, 20 per cent and Atlanta 15 per cent. Taken by sections, the Middle States showed a decrease in clearings of 23 per cent, New England 6 per cent and the Middle Western States only 1 per cent, while other Western States show an increase of 9 per cent, the Pacific States an increase of 5 per cent. It will thus be seen that New York is still the great center of depression; that the further away one travels from this city, the less the reaction; and that in many cities, especially in the West and South, the volume of business is still considerably ahead of last year. When comparing clearings some allowance must be made for the fact that values are generally on a lower plane than a year ago. In the iron trade reactionary symptoms are still observable owing to much of the present capacity being unemployed, and lower prices are needed to stimulate orders. Somewhat more activity is observable in cotton goods, due rather to buyers recognizing the scarcity of cotton than to any increase in consumption of cotton fabrics.

The present situation as a whole warrants more cheerfulness. The country is still passing through a period of readjustment, evidently not entirely completed. In all probability it is going to be a quiet winter for trade at large. The disasters so long expected, however, have not occurred; and the outlook for a satisfactory solution of some of the graver economic problems of the day is more encouraging than has been the case for many months. Industry is taking a compulsory rest after a prolonged period of excessive activity. Under the new conditions we should ere long be accumulating a fresh supply of capital. Investors have withheld from the market for so long a period that funds must be accumulating. Undigested issues must be in process of assimilation. Banking opinion may still be divided as to the future course of the market, but essential conditions are unmistakably clearing and strengthening. In the first six or eight months of the year the stock market was actively engaged in discounting reaction. Now that the change in fundamental conditions is being recognized, it is showing equal readiness in discounting recovery.

THREAD OF LIFE IS BEING WOVEN

DR. GEIGER ON WEAVING AT GRACE EPISCOPAL.

Takes Text From Job's Philosophy and Draws Moral Lesson Therefrom.

DR. BURRELL ON FATE'S IRONY.

"My days are swifter than a weaver's shuttle, and are spent without hope."—Job, 7-6.

Life is an infinite process of weaving, according to the Rev. Henry J. Geiger, rector of St. Paul's, of Hickman, Ky., in his sermon at the Grace Episcopal church Sunday morning. He compared life with a web and his sermon was filled with these symbolic thoughts.

Job was prone to look at life in a most prosaic way, said Dr. Geiger. He might have said, "My days are short," but he was full of picturesque thoughts which he expressed. Dr. Geiger said one finds the symbol of weaving throughout literature. As far back as 1600 B. C. we read where the Empress, planted mulberry trees for her silk worms to feed and weave upon. Weaving was referred to extensively by the Greeks and the Three Fates symbolize the problems of today.

We wonder why the good die young, he said "why the young man's thread of life is cut." It is predestination and the old philosophers called it a philosophical necessity. He said it is a hard thing to satisfy the human heart. He told of the painting by Michael Angelo of the Three Fates and said the painting was the three aspects of the same face. Our fate, he said, is God's will and life is a divine progress of weaving; weaving the divine and the human life into the Lord, Jesus Christ.

The old proverb is that "For the web of God, God gives the thread." Many times, said Mr. Geiger, the thread is misused. Life is a web we are constantly working and our lives can be woven bright by service and activity in Jesus. What we have woven, he said, is an irrevocable record for or against us; there are tangles and breaks. The tangles may represent the time at which we meet temptation and the broken threads the time when we have been rebellious in trouble with Christ. Faith takes all inconsistencies of life. The dropped stitches of the web represent the time one has wasted and the neglected opportunities. God, he said, is the author and finisher of our fate.

Dr. Geiger said in our lives there are colored threads, blue and black being symbolic of sin and sorrow; red symbolic of suffering, and gray symbolic of grief and despair. The white is symbolic of the Christian life, purity and consistency. There is a red thread in the history of all humanity, according to Mr. Geiger. He told of the weaver who sees only the rough side and ragged edges of his web, but keeps weaving knowing that the web will be perfect on the opposite side if he follows his pattern. So in the lives of everyone, he said, and heaven will be the revelation. Therefore, be ye steadfast and unmoved in the sight of the Lord.

Dr. Geiger filled the pulpit at the Grace church yesterday morning and last night in the absence of the Rev. D. C. Wright, who will return this week and be in his charge next Sunday. Dr. Geiger was the guest of

"Why God Laughs."

With fine discernment and appreciation Dr. H. W. Barwell yesterday morning drew a lesson in life from the hyperbole of the ancient Hebrew poet: "He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh. First Presbyterian church was crowded. His subject was "Why God Laughs." It was a continuation of the discourse of the Sunday before, when he recalled to the minds of the congregation the fact that for 50 years the scriptures had been preached to them in that church, and there was a responsibility resting on each to respond to the call of the gospel. Yesterday he described how willful man goes on his way, regardless of the expressed will of God, satirizing himself; for in good time God's purpose will be done and man's effort be brought into derision.

Mr. William McEwan sang a beautiful solo that was greatly appreciated.

To Drive Out Malaria

And Build Up the System
Take the Old Standard GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC. You know what you are taking. The formula is plainly printed on every bottle, showing it is simply Quinine and Iron in a tasteless form, and the most effectual form. For grown people and children 50c.

It's easier for some men to paint word pictures than it is for them to tell the plain unvarnished truth.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY.
Take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets. Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box, 25c.

PADUCAH, KY.

October 21st, 1910

Tenth anniversary of the disastrous fire, which destroyed our store October 21st, 1900.

ANNIVERSARY SALE

TEN years ago, on the morning of October 21st, 1900, Paducah was visited by a very disastrous fire, when Morton's opera house and L. B. Ogilvie's store went up in flames. Now when one goes to the Kentucky Theatre, sees how large, commodious and modern it is and shops at the present store of OGILVIE'S, with its magnificent light, roominess and many modern conveniences, and recalls the old store, together with Morton's Opera house, he must conclude that the city of Paducah was benefitted by the fire, even if a few individuals suffered a pecuniary loss.

Nine years ago, on October 17th, we moved into our present modern building. As both these anniversaries come this week, we will celebrate them with an Anniversary Sale, giving the citizens of Paducah many bargains, in appreciation of their past favors.

Daily Thought.

So long as we love we serve. So long as we are loved by others, I would almost say we are indispensable; and no man is useless while he has a friend.

—Robert Louis Stevenson

Coal men would do well to take warning and not reduce prices; else they might be indicted.

The annual roundup of bawdy houses by which they submit to agreed fines, part of which go to the county and part to the prosecuting officers, at least, exposes their presence in the city.

REASON PREVAILED.

Regardless of the practical issues at stake between employer and employee, the public has an interest in labor disputes, and it is gratifying to observe a disposition on the part of both sides to get together and discuss the matters between them. This disposition was manifested by the union men of the Illinois Central shops and the officials of the railroad. What terms they reached we do not know—that is their business; but the manner in which they reached the terms—that is our business somewhat, and we are glad to observe that reason, a sense of fair play, and a spirit of good feeling, and not animosity, prejudice and ill-will were displayed. It puts both sides in good odor with the public; and that is important.

A LAY SERMON.

It is seldom we frankly indulge in a sermon; but sometimes religious obligations and broad, practical philanthropy become so obviously identical that the press is justified in assuming the priestly function of calling attention to it. This sermon is addressed to Jews, Protestants and Catholics. For those transcendentalists, who deny the evidence of their own senses, and those materialists, who have eyes that see not and ears that hear not, we can have no message.

If history teaches us one thing above another that distinguishes the God of the Jew and the Christian from the gods of the heathens, it is that he demands of his believers a definite, affirmative conduct of life. There is a rational belief in a future state of rewards and punishment, and to each is given, according to his accepted doctrine, a conception of this future state and those observances which his religion enforces. But for one brief period of this immense eternity, we are all placed in Paducah by the Creator for some purpose, and here are formed relationships, which impose upon each individual a personal obligation, from which his church cannot relieve him.

Whatever God's methods and purposes may be, the man, who believes in a future state can scarcely question it. If, while on earth his presence proves a blessing to his fellowman, he smacks of heaven in his very personality; and, if his conduct tends the other way, no reasonable being could complain if his Creator should conclude his task run more toward Hell, and act accordingly.

The earliest Hebrew book of the law enjoins upon all true believers the love of God and their fellowmen, and the Christ of the Christian, who claimed to institute not a new religion, but to be the fulfillment and interpretation of the Jewish religion, emphasized this injunction, called it the great commandment and declared that upon it "hung all the law and prophets." From the institutions of the Ten Commandments to the words of the dying Christ, there is nothing but sympathy and pity expressed for the positive sins of the flesh, and the whole Jewish and Christian religion is concerned with a vast system of vicarious atonement for these sins; because God recognizes all sins as evidences of inherent weakness.

The Ten Commandments are not a harsh fiat by which to condemn mankind, but a recognition of those cardinal sins, which mankind is prone to commit, and a standing warning against their commission, established by a beneficent Supreme Being. Throughout the Christian religion the same commiseration for the weaknesses of the flesh and desire to lift and restore fallen humanity is manifested in its observances and teachings.

Not condemnation for the sins of weakness, but their expiation is the note of the gospels; but there is one sin, in which the prophets and the Christ unite in condemning in unmitigated terms—the sin of hypocrisy. Isaiah in fine scorn voices the abhorrence of God for "lip service," and he calls it not only meaningless but iniquitous; a blasphemous mockery of the Divine Being with forms and ceremonies, when there is no love of God and humanity in the heart.

The Christ in his parables of the last day plainly declares that he has not commanded a mere negative refraining from certain evils; but has commanded affirmative conduct, and he pictures on the Judgment Day humanity passing in review, when some will say we have not cursed, we have not drunk, we have not stolen, we have not lied, we have not stayed away from church. And they will be told: Yes, and here are some other things you have not done—you have not visited the sick and afflicted; you have not given a cup of cold water to thirsty in My name; you have not given food to the hungry; you have not ministered to those in prison; you have not clothed the naked.

And then some will be heard to murmur that they didn't know of any that were hungry, or thirsty, or sick, or naked or in prison, that they neglected.

It may prove embarrassing, because, you know, one really ought to have looked them up. But this discourse is intended to forestall part of that embarrassment. There are people in Paducah dying of tuberculosis under conditions that expose others to their disease. There is in this city an organization, founded principally upon faith, that has erected a tuberculosis sanitarium on Jackson's hill in McCracken county, where these people can be taken and the ravages of the disease stayed by proper treatment.

We have magnificent houses of worship in this city, and we would not have it otherwise; nothing is too grand or too beautiful to be the means through which a creature expresses his adoration of his Creator; but it would be shameful to some of us to face the Judgment Day with the knowledge that while we erected fine piles to the glory of the Creator, we neglected the modest little house on Jackson's hill for the reclamation of some of His own creatures.

We recognize the fact that most of the money contributed to all worthy causes comes from the pious, church-going people, and we are not passing judgment on the individual, who fails to contribute to this cause. We are merely putting the issues up to him, for him to judge himself. We realize that many have their own organizations of a similar character to which they give liberally; that too many of us permit an organization to take care of our benevolence for us, and thereby lose the benefit, which comes from the personal touch. Yet, there are certain kinds of philanthropy, which can be attained in their full measure only by organization and co-operation, and necessarily this is one of them. It is a nonsectarian, practical, broad philanthropy, the benefit of which will effect not only the individuals but the community, and will be realized in direct ratio to the amount invested. Mr. A. R. Meyers is treasurer of the organization, the membership fee is nominal, and the need great. Mr. Meyers can be reached by telephone at any time.

Heard in the Lobby

"In discipline the Kentucky prisons rank the best, but the buildings rank far below the average," said Col. Mott Ayres, who returned this morning from Washington, where he attended the International Prison Congress. Colonel Ayres has been in the east for several weeks and the majority of his time has been occupied by the prison congress, which was attended by 125 prison officials from Europe and 40 prison officials from America. The members aboard a special train started from New York and inspected all of the leading prisons in the states east of Michigan. After the tour and the personal inspection, the delegates went to Washington, where an eight days' session was held, during which the observations were discussed. Colonel Ayres was honored by being elected a member of the board of the International Prison Congress. Some of the best prisons in America were observed, and the buildings ranked as a palace in comparison with the Kentucky prisons, but in none of the prisons was the discipline of the Kentucky convicts surpassed, said Colonel Ayres.

NEWS OF COURTS

In Police Court.

Police court has been changed from 9 o'clock to 8:30 for the convenience of the night patrolmen. Judge Cross had a fair sized docket this morning, as follows: Breach of peace—Arthur Dunn, fined $30; Jess Owens, fined $15; Walter Morris and Anna May Moore, fined $30 each. Speeding—Ed Garrison (two counts) first, dismissed; second, fined $5. Gaming—W. F. Spinning, Morton Scaggs and Forest Melton, fined $20 each. Presenting and flourishing a pistol—Tom Wilson, fined $50. Selling liquor without license—Crate Gardner and Charles White, continued to Wednesday. Vagrancy—Walter Morris, left open.

Deeds Filed.

of its own weight. There is no doubt that when the burley growers pooled their tobacco and cut out one crop, it materially boosted the prices of dark tobacco, and the same reasoning leads buyers to believe the dumping of the pool will affect the price the other way.

At the same time no one can be found to say that the price will materially decline below that of last year. Farmers, who are forced to throw their tobacco on the market for what they can get, of course, will be taken advantage of by speculators, but those who can afford to be independent will get a good price. Buyers are frank in saying that farmers are holding their product too high now. This is their side of the question. The farmer has his, and he desires to get all he can for the tobacco, and the buyers' side is here given for his benefit.

Burley Pool Breaks.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 17.—After three attempts at the organization of a pool for 1910, the 40,000 burley tobacco growers of Kentucky, representing approximately 200,000,000 pounds of tobacco, declared the pool off, through their district board, which assembled here in session extraordinary Saturday night. The session lasted until after midnight, when a resolution declaring the pool off was finally passed.

This means a race between the growers to get their tobacco on the market at whatever price they can get, and it is expected that the price will rapidly fall to rock bottom.

Within the past few days the American Tobacco company has rushed hundreds of buyers into the burley belt to buy all the tobacco in sight at 12¢ to 14 cents, without in many cases ever seeing the growing or uncurd crop. These tactics demoralized the already weak pool organization, and the result has for several days been almost inevitable.

The action of the trust in placing many buyers in the field also helped to rush the auction of 100,000,000 pounds of the 1909 burley pool, now being held here, and the bids by independent buyers have had to be rejected on thousands of hogheads.

Further outbreaks of night riding because of the failure of the pool and consequent low prices are feared and freely predicted. The result of the failure of the 1910 pool is expected to be financial stringency, as the tobacco industry is by far the most important of Kentucky.

MRS. LICHTENSTEIN

PASSES AWAY AT HOME OF HER DAUGHTER.

Funeral Held at 2 O'clock This Afternoon at Residence of Mrs. R. Loeb.

Mrs. Leah Lichtenstein, 95 years old, one of the oldest residents of Western Kentucky, died at 2 o'clock Sunday morning of infirmities incident to advanced age, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. R. Loeb, 100 Fountain avenue.

Mrs. Lichtenstein's life was a most useful one. She had been cheerful and bright in her last days, a marked characteristic of her earlier life. She was born in Hechingen, Germany, in 1815 and came to the United States about 28 years ago, where she had lived with her daughter. She was a member of Temple Israel and was of a high type of womanhood.

Surviving her are three children: Mrs. R. Loeb; Mr. A. Lichtenstein, of Dennison, Tex.; and Mr. J. Lichtenstein, of Georgia, and a number of grand-children and great-grand-children. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Loeb, the Rev. Meyer Lovitch, rabbi of Temple Israel, officiating. Burial was in the Jewish cemetery.

The pallbearers were as follows: Messrs. Adolph Weil, Herman Friedman, Sam Levy, Sam Fels, David Desberger and Joe Ullman.

Gentry Lofton.

Gentry Lofton, 15 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Lofton, died Saturday afternoon at the family home near Oaks station. He was taken ill with a congestive chill. He was born in Marshall county, and besides his parents is survived by several brothers and sisters. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock with burial at Briensburg.

Gentry Lofton.

Gentry Lofton, the 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lofton, of Oaks station, died at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon following a congestive chill. He was born in Marshall county. The funeral will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon and burial in the Briensburg cemetery.

Costly Difference.

Senator John Tilden Murphy recently evolved what he considered to be a fine conundrum:

"What is the difference between a druggist and a farm laborer?"

The answer, so Senator Murphy says, is:

"One is a pharmacist, the other is a farm-assistant."

The other day he strolled into a drug store in his district to get a prescription filled, the chief ingredient of which was borax. He pronounced the conundrum to his drug friend. After a slight mental struggle the clerk "gave it up" and was told the answer, and in duty bound, laughed heartily. A few minutes later the prescription was filled and the price was 65 cents.

"Thanks," said Senator Murphy, "I can understand the 15 cents, but what is the 50 cents for?"

"Oh, that," replied the druggist blandly, "that is the difference between the pharmacist and the farm assistant."—Philadelphia Times.

The Wherefore.

"Why are you so sore on your congressman?"

"When we called on him in Washington last session, he made a speech to us instead of taking us out to dinner."

Teacher—Jimmie, suppose you had ten apples and ten oranges, and gave nine-tenths of them to some other little boys, what would you have? Jimmie—I'd have my head examined!—Tit-Bits.

'Every little bit' Added to What You've Got Makes Just A little Bit More

That's a good song to keep humming. Suppose you had saved one dollar out of every five you have made in the last five years. It would be quite a sum, wouldn't it? Well, don't let another five years go by without saving something from your income. Open a savings account at our bank. Now! The road to prosperity means self-denial and economy, but it leads to the goal of success which will amply repay one for all wise sacrifices in early life.

We Offer For Sale

A most attractive proposition for any one considering buying a small farm. We have for sale six 40 acre tracts, situated about two miles from city limits on Illinois Central railroad. Two gravel roads pass through this property; the land is as good farming land as can be had in McCracken County, and will double in value in the next year; the price is only $40 an acre; we will make liberal terms to prompt purchasers.

We have the most attractive proposition to offer any one who wants a self-sustaining country home; we have twenty-four acres situated three miles from town near the Pines on gravel road; the five room house has water, electric lights, telephone and is in first-class condition in every way and has the best poultry plant on it in the state that cost the owner over $10,000 to equip; it also has a fine young orchard on the place. We offer this place with all the equipment for $8,500 on liberal terms. You can make this place pay for itself before the payments become due. See us about this at once.

We offer for immediate sale six acres on Pines Road, facing Gregory Heights; beautiful building site, has large barn on place; property near this is selling for $1,000 an acre, for quick sale we offer this six acres for $2,000, on liberal terms. See us about this at once.

We want to buy a small five-room house.

Let us list your property. We can give you results.

AUTO CARRIES

SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENT ON THE RURAL ROUTE.

Mail Carrier and Patrons Are All Pleased with the Results Obtained.

After a week's test the automobile promises to succeed the horse in delivering the mail on the rural routes in McCracken county. Ed Buchanan, carrier on rural route, No. 2, is the first local carrier to experiment with the automobile in covering his route, but last week the experiment proved so satisfactory that the other carriers are discussing the advisability of securing machines.

Last week Mr. Buchanan purchased a light touring car, and drove over his route in a machine, covering the route in about half the time. The substitution of the machine is agreeable to the patrons of the route as all receive their mail before noon. With the machine Mr. Buchanan leaves the postoffice every morning about 7:30 o'clock, and returns to the postoffice about 11:30 o'clock, although by running faster he has been able to finish by 11 o'clock in the morning. By driving a horse it required until 2:30 o'clock or 3 o'clock to finish his route.

$1,000,000 Mail Fraud Is Alleged. Boston, Oct. 17.—On a charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud Charles H. Brooks, manager and director of the Redeemable Investment company of this city, a concern having capital stock amounting to $10,000,000, was arrested this afternoon. According to the federal officials nearly $1,000,000 is involved under the charges which have been made against Brooks.

The federal authorities later raided the offices of the company. The five directors of the concern were summoned before the district attorney. Several New York men are officials of the company.

"When Harold proposed to me," said Maude, "I told him to go and ask papa."
"But you don't really care for him!" said Maymie.
"Of course not. But I do so love to play little jokes on papa."—Washington Star.

The average cost of telephone exchange maintenance is said to be much greater under government ownership than by private corporation.

LOTS OF BOOZE

FOUND BY POLICE IN GARDNER'S HOME.

Crate Lives Near Tenth Street and Kentucky Avenue—Men Arrested.

In the arrest of two negroes last night the police believe they have caught two bootleggers who have been operating extensively in Paducah and neighboring points for months.

Crate Gardner is in jail, charged with selling liquor without a license, and Charles White is being held as an accessory. Gardner was caught at his home on Kentucky avenue between Ninth and Tenth streets, last night by Patrolmen Kirk and Dunaway. White, a tie carrier, was arrested at Eighth and Norton streets by Police Sergeant Lige Cross.

A search of Gardner's house revealed a suit case filled with quarts, pints and half pints of whiskey, and this will be used against him as evidence.

DISAPPOINTED CONDUCTOR

Thought He Was Going to Save a Life.

Here's another one about a woman. She was one of the three or four passengers scattered over a Shaker Lakes car the other afternoon. Also she wore a dark, spotted veil that gave an air of mystery to her appearance.

The conductor, when he looked up casually from his work of jotting down the trip statistics on a heavy manilla card, saw her watching him furtively, stealthily. From him she would turn her glance toward the other passengers to make sure she was not observed. After he'd returned to his bookkeeping the conductor, keeping tab on her out of the tail of his eye, saw her reach a little black satchel and take something out. Then her supple form became almost rigid as she again cast a searching glance in his direction to ascertain if there was danger of him seeing what she was about to do.

He became really alarmed. Perhaps this woman was wrestling with a great secret sorrow and was about to commit suicide? Was it a small dagger or a vial of poison that she was taking from her satchel? He went ahead jotting down figures on his card, so that she wouldn't know he had guessed her awful plan, but he held himself in readiness to spring upon her in time to prevent her deed of self-destruction. He had never had a suicide on his car.

She raised up the dark veil, fumbled at something concealed in her lap and started to lift her hand to her face. The conductor rushed forward.

But he checked himself just as he was about to detain her hand and went on up as if to speak to the motorman. For all the woman had been fixing to do was to apply her powder rag for a moment to the shiny part of her nose.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

You bent above the grave and read the stone
Where long ago—I saw your quick tears start—
Some singer, unremembered and unknown,
Had woven into song his broken heart.And then you asked if only loss and death
Moved man to truer song and brought the need
Of music's balm and that assuaging breath
Which falls so poignantly from lips that bleed.You ask how I, who knew and mourned no dead,
Could hope for music, since its cords must spring
From death and horror—and I only said:
"Have I not my dead selves of which to sing?"

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

Harris-Winnings.
Miss Arkansas Harris and James L. Winnings were married yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock by the Rev. J. H. Gardner, pastor of the Second Baptist church. The groom is a young man who resides near Little's addition.

Cross-Gardner.
W. H. Gardner, a rural route carrier from Hardin, and Miss Nannie Cross of Hardin, were married this afternoon at the court house by County Judge Allen W. Barkley.

Approaching Cairo Wedding.
Quite a number of invitations have been received here to the approaching marriage reception of Mr. Joseph Bainbridge Wenger and Miss Maud Sutherland, both of Cairo. The event will be on the evening of Wednesday, October 19, at 8 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Sutherland, 615 Twenty-first street, Cairo.

Both Mr. Wenger and Miss Sutherland are well known here. Mr. Wenger was with The Sun on some special work for awhile, and is popular socially. Miss Sutherland has been an attractive visitor here.

Art Exhibit's Last Week.
The exhibition of "The Last Supper," Leavitt's wonderful painting, will close Thursday, so the days in which to see this striking work of art are limited. Mr. Leavitt's descriptive talks on the picture have attracted notable interest, but the Woman's club, under whose auspices it came here, are anticipating larger audiences this week. Every day from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. at the Three Links building.

The following ladies will be at the building this week:
Monday—Mesdames James C. Utterback, H. B. Sewell, J. T. Thompson, Ad Raach, D. E. Wilson, B. L. Bradley, C. S. Bookwalter.

Tuesday—Mesdames Frank Boyd, Lloyd Boswell, S. H. Winstead, James Smith, W. A. Gardner, J. K. Ferguson.

Wednesday—Mesdames James Koger, Earl Palmer, Charles Emery, Misses Jessie Hopkins, Frances Gould, D. R. Caldwell.

Thursday—Mesdames James Wellie, Henry Rudy, C. H. Sherrill, Miss Minnie Ratcliffe.

In Honor of the Crescendo Club.
Miss Virginia Newell's at home for the Crescendo club, which is composed of her music pupils, on Saturday afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock, was a charming and informal occasion.

The delightful studio was a pretty bower of flowers, roses, carnations, chrysanthemums and ferns carried out in an attractive way a color effect of pink and green. Miss Newell was assisted in receiving by Miss Lula Reed and Miss Anne Bradshaw. A delicious salad course served during the afternoon was a pretty emphasis of the pink and green motif.

An especially enjoyable feature was an edition of "The Afternoon Chronicle." A number of the club members were given newspaper assignments and the result was some very clever work. Miss Edina Cowling, of Metropolis, was the editor-in-chief. Miss Mary Terry Burnett had charge of the "Social Column."

"Heard in the Lobby" was reported by Miss Bertha Ferguson. "The Lost and Found" column was happily handled by Miss Mary Meeco. A little story entitled "The Story My Piano Told Me" was given by Miss Mary Smith. "The Poet's Corner" featured some clever verses by the club girls.

Miss Anne Bradshaw and Miss Anna Hill contributed some beautiful vocal numbers to the afternoon's pleasure.

Clinton Wedding.

The announcement of the approaching marriage of Mr. T. E. Futrell, of Jackson, Tenn., and Miss Irene Griffey, of Clinton, has been made by the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Griffey. The ceremony will take place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Griffey Wednesday, October 19. Mr. Futrell is a prominent attorney of Jackson.

Nashville Wedding.

Saturday's Nashville Banner says of an approaching wedding that has interest here where the bride's parents formerly lived and are prominently connected:

"The marriage of Miss Irene Allen Wright and Mr. Edwin A. Hill will be beautifully solemnized at 8:30 o'clock next Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. Herndon Wright, in the presence of 150 guests, to whom it is an event of affectionate interest."

MR. JACOBY TALKS TO THE PERSONAL WORKERS.

"How to Deal With Those Devoid of Feeling," was the subject of an interesting talk given to his class of personal workers this morning at the Auditorium rink by the Rev. W. S. Jacoby. Mr. Jacoby said many people say they do not feel like being saved and are waiting for some feeling to overcome them. They are looking for some evidence of the truth, he said, before they will accept Christ. But before you get the evidence, said the Rev. Jacoby, you must first accept Christ. His talk was illustrated by three points which he termed the "three F's." The first, he said, is facts. He said that one says "I am a sinner and there is salvation; if I accept his promises he will save me." This, he said, shows there is a promise of God to save. The second F is faith. Believe what God has said, advised Mr. Jacoby. The natural man looks for feeling instead of having faith. Mr. Jacoby said it was better to believe and ask less questions. After you have the first two F's, then the feeling evidences itself. He said the witness of the spirit was then at hand and the spirit of God's forgiveness.

LANTERN OF WATCHMAN SETS FIRE TO FACTORY.

By the explosion of the watchman's lantern, fire broke out in the boiler room of the Lack Singletree company on South Third street, at 2 o'clock Sunday morning. With two streams of water the fire was checked before it had gained the buildings. The loss will amount to about $200, as only the roof was destroyed. The watchman, F. N. Berger, had two lanterns, and one was leaking. He placed it on a pile of shavings and the oil caught fire. Hose companies Nos. 2 and 4 and truck company No. 4 answered the alarm.

Nearly every little article created for household use is here, and you will see many desirable articles you never thought of before. Besides the special values in 5 and 10c goods just seeing the new store is a real treat. Pay us a visit. We will be genuinely glad to see you, and the coming-in-every-little-while habit is a good one to get. Nothing in the store over 10c. O. C. Peal, 205 South Third street.

SHERIFF WILL START FOR EDDYVILLE TOMORROW.

With the smallest consignment of prisoners in years, Sheriff George Houser, accompanied by deputies, will leave tomorrow for Eddyville, where the prisoners convicted at the last term of criminal court will begin their sentences in the penitentiary. Mattie McReynolds, the only woman, will be taken to the Frankfort penitentiary later in the week by Sheriff Houser. He will be accompanied to Eddyville by Deputy Sheriff Charles Clark, Magistrate C. W. Emery and Col. Mott Ayres. The six prisoners are: Ford Jackson, obtaining money by false pretenses; Dan Owens, colored, maliciously striking; Albert Berger, colored, horse stealing; Henry Bell, colored, breaking into store-room; George Knapper, colored, obtaining money by false pretenses, and Griffin Moore, colored, grand larceny. All the prisoners will serve from one to five years except Berger, who is sent up for a term ranging from two to ten years.

Season of Prayer and Fasting Begins.

Torrey Revival Reaches Climax This Week—Immense Crowd Yesterday at Auditorium—Torrey's Sermon.

Ministers of Paducah and vicinity, representing all denominations, will be addressed at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the First Baptist church by Dr. R. A. Torrey, the noted evangelist, who is now conducting the revival at the Auditorium rink. Invitations have been sent out to every minister within a radius of 100 miles of this city and a large attendance is anticipated. Dr. Torrey will talk to them on the subject of "How to Make the Most Out of the Ministry." Dr. Torrey has held these meetings in Canada, England and in the United States and says the results have been wonderful. Many out-of-town ministers have already arrived in Paducah and others will arrive tonight and tomorrow. Several hundred are expected.

Wednesday has been set aside by Dr. Torrey as a day of prayer and fasting. A special prayer service will be held at the Auditorium rink Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. In the morning from 9 to 9:45 o'clock will be devoted to prayer and thought by the residents of Paducah, who will hold services in their homes, inviting neighbors. Some will observe the day by fasting. Dr. Torrey said this morning the interest in the meeting is at a high pitch and he is pleased with the attendance. He saw the meeting has about reached the climax of enthusiasm and the time for prayer and fasting is close.

Mr. Jacoby's Story.
Next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock the Rev. W. S. Jacoby, who was a gambler and sporting man, before his conversion at the age of 45 years, will tell of his life. The center section of the rink will be reserved for men and the sides for the women and children. The story of his life should draw a large crowd which has been in evidence in other cities where he has spoken.

Tonight the children's sunbeam chorus will sing and also on Friday night.

Yesterday afternoon the children's service was largely attended. The Epworth mission school attended in a body. The "Sunbeam Chorus" sang.

Dr. Torrey's Sermon.
Last night the Auditorium was crowded to hear Dr. Torrey preach on "Why Do You Wait?"

Mr. McEwan sang with beautiful effect.

Dr. Torrey said:
"And now why tarriest thou? Arise and be baptized, washing away"

thy sin, calling on the name of the Lord" (especially the first part of the verse, "Why tarriest thou?").—Acts xxii, 16.

It was God who asked the question, through His servant Ananias, of Saul of Tarsus; and I believe that God is asking the same question tonight through me of every man and woman and child in this building that is not an openly confessed, out-and-out follower of Jesus Christ.

God is saying to you tonight, "Why tarriest thou? What are you waiting for? Why do you not come out tonight on the side of Jesus Christ. Saul of Tarsus hated Jesus Christ. Saul of Tarsus thought that Jesus of Nazareth was an impostor; he did not believe that He was the Christ and the Son of God as He claimed to be. But away down in the depths of his heart Saul of Tarsus had an uneasy feeling that perhaps He was the Christ, perhaps He was the Son of God, but he never admitted it even to himself. As far as his admitted convictions were concerned, Saul of Tarsus thought Jesus was an impostor, and he hated Jesus with a very intense hatred; and he said, 'I am going to stamp out this religion of the followers of Jesus.' And he not only hated Jesus Christ, but he hated everybody that bore the name of Christ, and whenever he saw a man or woman or child that believed in Jesus and followed Him, he hated them. He did everything in his power to stamp out the religion of Jesus. He went from house to house in Jerusalem and arrested men and women and children, sparing neither age nor sex, and dragged them before the courts to be tried; and when they were sentenced to death, he gave his vote for their execution.

But at last Saul of Tarsus had exhausted all the opportunities for murder in Jerusalem, but he had not exhausted the hatred of his heart. He breathed an atmosphere of murder and slaughter, and hearing that a hundred and more miles away, in the city of Damascus, there were followers of Jesus, he went with a heart full of hatred, to the High Priest, and said, "Give me letters to Damascus, and I will go and do in Damascus what I have done in Jerusalem. I will arrest all the Christians, whether men or women or children, and I will bring them down here to Jerusalem to be punished." His request was quickly granted.

It was a long journey across the barren, desolate, dreary desert, whether on foot or on horseback, but day after day Saul pressed on, not even staying for the burning heat of the noonday sun. At last he has almost reached Damascus, and he stands on the last hilltop, and there Damascus lies before him, in all its beauty, a city of olive groves, a city of vineyards, a city of gardens, and of flashing fountains, a city of glittering palaces and dashing rivers, a city which poets loved to sing, and of which one Persian poet says, "Damascus is a diamond in a setting of emeralds."

But as Saul looks down on Damascus in all its far-famed beauty, he has no eye for its beauty; his only thought is that in that city are some of these accursed Christians, and he adds to himself as he stands there, "I will soon have them in my power, and be dragging them back to be punished at Jerusalem."

He starts to press on towards the city, to do the hellish work for which he has come, when suddenly there shines round about him a marvelous light with a brightness above that of the noonday sun, and there in the midst of it he beholds the most wondrous face and form his eyes had ever gazed upon, the face and form of the glorified Christ.

Blinded by Glory.

He is blinded by the glory of it, and falls on his face to the ground. He hears a voice speaking to him, "Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou Me?" and the humbled man cries back from the ground, "Who art Thou, Lord?" and back comes the crushing and overwhelming answer, "I am Jesus whom thou persecutest."

Then, thoroughly subdued and awed, he cries back, "What wilt Thou have me to do, Lord?"

And the answer comes, "Arise, stand upon thy feet, and go into Damascus, and there it shall be told you what thou must do."

He rises to his feet, but everything is black. He turns his eyes hither and thither, but he sees nothing. He has to hold out his hand and be led like a helpless child into the city he expected to enter as a conqueror. He goes to the house of Judas, and there for three days and three nights he shuts himself up and sees no one, neither eating, sleeping nor drinking; but still he does not yield himself to Christ.

At last God, weary of waiting, sends His servant Ananias with the message, "Why do you not come out openly and confess Him whom you know to be the Christ?"

Men and women, God is putting the same question to you: "Why tarriest thou? Why do you not come out openly and accept Christ, and confess Him before the world as your Saviour and Lord and Master?" I wish it were possible for me to go down from this platform, and to go from seat to seat, and from man to man, and put to every man and woman out of Christ this question: What are you waiting for before you come out on the side of Christ? I would have you tell me your real reason. I would have you give me an honest answer, and then I would sit down beside you with the Word of God, and show you how little there is in your reason.

If I could do that I believe I could get almost every man and woman in this building that is out of Christ to accept Him tonight. But there is no time of course for that, it would take days and weeks and months, so I am going to ask you to do the next best thing. I am going to ask every man and woman who is not a Christian to forget about every one else, and not to look at me as preaching a sermon to a multitude, but to think of you and me as being here alone in personal conversation together, face to face. Will you put to yourself this question before we begin our conversation, "What am I waiting for? Why do I not come out on the side of Christ tonight?"

Now we are going to have a few moments of silence and prayer, and I am going to ask every Christian man and woman in the room to pray that every one may be honest, and I am going to ask all of you who are not Christians to put this question to yourselves: "What am I waiting for?" Let us have silence.

Will every man and woman put to themselves the question, "What is the real reason that I do not accept and confess Christ tonight; what am I waiting for?" Now I will take up your answers one by one.

To Be Convinced.

1. Some of you have said tonight, "I am waiting until I shall be convinced; just as soon as I am convinced that the Bible is the Word of God and Jesus is the Son of God, I will accept Christ as my Saviour, and confess Him before the world." Now, I want to make an offer to every man and woman who has made that answer.

If you will come to me at the close of this meeting I will show you the way to find out that, beyond all peradventure, the Bible is God's Word, and Jesus Christ is God's Son.

Now, if you are an honest skeptic, you will accept that offer, and if you do not accept it, never say again that you are a skeptic. You are a humbug. Of course, if you are only a trifler I have no time to waste upon you, but if you are a sincere doubter, I would rather speak with you than anybody else in the building, for I have yet to find the first sincere doubter, the first sincere agnostic, the first sincere atheist, the first spiritualist, the first Christian Scientist, the first Theosophist, who really wanted to know the truth, that I could not show the way to find it.

All over the world tonight there are men who used to be agnostics and doubters whom it has been my privilege to lead to Jesus. If you are an honest skeptic, you will accept that offer, and if you do not, at least one good result will come of it—you will know when you go out of this hall that you are not an honest skeptic.

You say you are skeptics and agnostics; so I used to be, but I was an honest man, and when a way was pointed out I tried to see where it led, and thank God, it led out of the barrenness and desolation and darkness of utter nihilism into a clear faith that cannot be shaken, that that blessed book is God's Word, and

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her

Knoxville, Iowa.—"I suffered with pain low down in my right side for a year or more and was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work. I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, and am glad to say that your medicines and kind letters of directions have done more for me than anything else and I had the best physicians here. I can do my work and rest well at night. I believe there is nothing like the Pinkham remedies."—Mrs. CLARA FRANKS, R. F. D., No. 3, Knoxville, Iowa.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and suffering women owe it to themselves to at least give this medicine a trial. Proof is abundant that it has cured thousands of others, and why should it not cure you?

If you want special advice write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. It is free and always helpful.

Headache?—It's Your Liver

Too Many People Take Headache Powders When a Liver Tonic Is Needed.

Try Olive Tablets—the Substitute for Calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the one substitute for dangerous calomel. They do all of calomel's work without any of its bad after effects. There is no necessity when you take Olive Tablets, of following them up with nasty, sickening, griping salts or castor oil, as you should after taking calomel.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel or any other metallic drugs; they are a purely vegetable compound, sugar-coated, easy to take, and never gripe or cause weakness.

Thousands of people take one every night at bedtime just to prevent disorder of the liver, constipation, bad breath, pimples, headache, etc.

The olive oil in Olive Tablets is a natural laxative as well as a healing, soothing and strengthening ingredient.

Dr. Edwards, calomel's old enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with liver and bowel troubles.

Try them for a week. Take one on retiring nightly.

All druggists sell Olive Tablets in neat pocket packages. 15 tablets for 10c; 45 tablets for 25c.

2. Well, some one else may say, My case is different. I believe in the Bible just as much as you do, but I am waiting till I have enjoyed the world enough." There are a great many people of that kind in Paducah. Some of them have grown old and grey in that condition.

They make the mistake of thinking that when they grow tired of the world, they can turn to Christ without any sacrifice; they think that after a while a man will grow tired of the world and give it up without an effort. What a great mistake!

The longer you live for the world, the less enjoyment you get out of it, but the tighter its grip becomes upon your shriveling soul.

There will never be another night when it is so easy to give up the world as it is tonight. You know that is true in the case of the drinking man.

When a man begins to drink, there is pleasure in it; the first glass of beer or of wine or of champagne has joy in it, and exhilaration in it—a man feels like two men; but as a man goes on drinking there is less and less joy, but the more complete his slavery becomes, until at last a man reaches a place, which thousands of men and women in Paducah have already reached, where they hate alcohol as much as any prohibitionist, but are utterly unable to give it up. They know it is robbing them of their brains, they know it is robbing them of their manhood, of the respect of their community, of the affection of their wives, and the confidence of their children. They know it is taking the bread out of their children's mouths, and the clothes from their wives' backs; yet, hating it as they do, they will take up their glass filled with liquid damnation, and drink it to the dregs.

You say, "That is true." It is just as true of the love of money. The slavery of money is as complete and as degrading as the slavery of strong drink. I would rather undertake to save ten drunkards than one money fiend, any day. When a man begins, there is pleasure in it; the first ten pounds, or the first hundred pounds, or perhaps the first thousand pounds that he lays by gives him joy; but as a man goes on accumulating, there is less and less pleasure, and at last there is no pleasure at all, but the man is the slave of the degrading lust for gold.

I was visiting a man in the State of Ohio, when I was living in Minneapolis, in the boom days, when men were making fortunes in a day. The man to whom I refer had a comfortable fortune of about 500,000 dollars, and was now upwards of 70 years of age. One foot was in the grave, and the other foot almost before I came to see him, they had to send post-haste for the doctor to come and pull the man's other foot away from the edge of the grave. After everybody else had gone to bed, he said to me in a low tone of voice—what do you think? "Oh," you say, "something about Heaven, something about eternity; a man with one foot in the grave and the other almost over would wish to talk about the future and what it meant for him."

But no, he leaned over and said: "Do you know any place up in Minneapolis where I could invest my money where it would bring big interest?"

Oh, some of you men are going very fast that same road, selling your souls for damning gold. It is just the same way with the love for pleasure. The first dance, the first card party, the first theater, oh, the excitement of it and the pleasure of it and the exhilaration of it; but as one goes on the pleasure of these things becomes less and less, and more and more complete does the slavery to them become. The time will never come when you have enjoyed the world enough. Furthermore, there is more joy in Jesus Christ in 24 hours than there is in the world in 365 days. I have tried them both.

Further, suppose while you are waiting until you have enjoyed the world enough you are called out of the world. "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?"

One night I went down the aisle almost to the far end of it, and the people were standing up singing, and I turned to a young lady and I said to her, "Why don't you become a Christian?" "Oh," she said, "I enjoy the world too much." I simply quoted God's word to her, "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" and passed on. The meetings went on, and the last night came. The last meeting had finished, and, after I had returned to the house where I was staying, my hostess came to me and said, "Two young ladies want to see you; they are waiting in the other room."

I went in and one of them was the young lady of whom I am speaking. I said to her, "Why do you want to see me?"

"Oh," she said, "I do not enjoy the world any more; since you spoke to me your words have been ringing in my ears. What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul? And I have come tonight, and have brought my friend with me, so that you may tell us what to do to be saved."

Oh, that those words would ring in the ears of some of you men and women until you cannot rest, until you come to the Son of God for rest and joy, which is rest and joy indeed.

Waiting for a Friend.
2. "I am waiting for a friend," says another. That is true of a great many persons. Young men are waiting for their friends, and young ladies are waiting for their lady friends, women are waiting for their husbands, lovers are waiting for their sweethearts—one is waiting for another. What I say to you is, You come to Christ first, and bring your friends along. If your friends love you as much as you love them, when you come to Christ they will come too. It is better that you should take them to heaven with you than that they should take you to hell with them.

I was staying at one time with a minister, and he told me this story. He said: "After my wife and I had been married for fourteen and a half years she turned to me one night and said, 'Husband, I have made up my mind to be a Christian and to unite with the church.'"

"He said, 'I was very angry; I was the principal of the schools in

Anyone Can Lay Regal Roofing

A hammer and knife—the only tools necessary. Complete instructions, fully illustrated, packed in each roll. And they are so simple that anyone can produce a perfectly water-tight roof. Special large headed galvanized nails avoid the necessity of unsightly tin caps, which quickly rust and cause leaks. J-M REGAL ROOFING, when properly applied, will outwear any other roofing of its class, and it gives the best roof at the lowest cost. J-M REGAL ROOFING is the outcome of more than 50 years' experience in manufacturing roofing materials. It represents the result of a half century of experience and a constant endeavor to produce a really high grade roofing at a low grade price. While not the lowest in cost, it contains more real value than any other manufacturer can produce for the price.

The base of J-M REGAL ROOFING is genuine J-M TRINIDAD LAKE ASPHALT—the most durable water-proofing material known. As Trinidad Lake Asphalt has been used for 80 years for street paving, it is well adapted for roofing, where the conditions are far less severe. Call and examine this roofing—let us give you samples and interesting booklet of information.

Season of Prayer and Fasting Begins.

Torrey Revival Reaches Climax This Week—Immense Crowd Yesterday at Auditorium—Torrey's Sermon.

Ministers of Paducah and vicinity, representing all denominations, will be addressed at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the First Baptist church by Dr. R. A. Torrey, the noted evangelist, who is now conducting the revival at the Auditorium rink. Invitations have been sent out to every minister within a radius of 100 miles of this city and a large attendance is anticipated. Dr. Torrey will talk to them on the subject of "How to Make the Most Out of the Ministry." Dr. Torrey has held these meetings in Canada, England and in the United States and says the results have been wonderful. Many out-of-town ministers have already arrived in Paducah and others will arrive tonight and tomorrow. Several hundred are expected.

Wednesday has been set aside by Dr. Torrey as a day of prayer and fasting. A special prayer service will be held at the Auditorium rink Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. In the morning from 9 to 9:45 o'clock will be devoted to prayer and thought by the residents of Paducah, who will hold services in their homes, inviting neighbors. Some will observe the day by fasting. Dr. Torrey said this morning the interest in the meeting is at a high pitch and he is pleased with the attendance. He says the meeting has about reached the climax of enthusiasm and the time for prayer and fasting is come.

Mr. Jacoby's Story.
Next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock the Rev. W. S. Jacoby, who was a gambler and sporting man, before his conversion at the age of 45 years, will tell of his life. The center section of the rink will be reserved for men and the sides for the women and children. The story of his life should draw a large crowd which has been in evidence in other cities where he has spoken.

Tonight the children's sunbeam chorus will sing and also on Friday night. Yesterday afternoon the children's service was largely attended. The Epworth mission school attended in a body. The "Sunbeam Chorus" sang.

Dr. Torrey's Sermon.
Last night the Auditorium was crowded to hear Dr. Torrey preach on "Why Do You Wait?"

Mr. McGowan sang with beautiful effect.
Dr. Torrey said:

thy sin, calling on the name of the Lord" (especially the first part of the verse, "Why tarriest thou?").—Acts xxii, 16.

It was God who asked the question, through His servant Ananias, of Saul of Tarsus; and I believe that God is asking the same question tonight through me of every man and woman and child in this building that is not an openly confessed, out-and-out follower of Jesus Christ.

God is saying to you tonight,
"Why tarriest thou? Why are you waiting? Why do you not come out tonight on the side of Jesus Christ. Saul of Tarsus hated Jesus Christ. Saul of Tarsus thought that Jesus of Nazareth was an impostor;
he did not believe that He was the Christ and the Son of God as He claimed to be. But away down in the depths of his heart Saul of Tarsus had an uneasy feeling that perhaps He was the Christ, perhaps He was the Son of God, but he never admitted it even to himself. As far as his admitted convictions were concerned, Saul of Tarsus thought Jesus was an impostor, and he hated Jesus with a very intense hatred; and he said, "I am going to stamp out this religion of the followers of Jesus." And he not only hated Jesus Christ, but he hated everybody that bore the name of Christ, and whenever he saw a man or woman or child that believed in Jesus and followed Him, he hated them. He did everything in his power to stamp out the religion of Jesus.
He went from house to house in Jerusalem and arrested men and women and children, sparing neither age nor sex, and dragged them before the courts to be tried; and when they were sentenced to death, he gave his vote for their execution.

But at last Saul of Tarsus had exhausted all the opportunities for murder in Jerusalem, but he had not exhausted the hatred of his heart. He breathed an atmosphere of murder and slaughter, and hearing that a hundred and more miles away, in the city of Damascus, there were followers of Jesus, he went with a heart full of hatred, to the High Priest, and said, "Give me letters to Damascus, and I will go and do in Damascus what I have done in Jerusalem. I will arrest all the Christians, whether men or women or children, and I will bring them down here to Jerusalem to be punished." His request was quickly granted.

It was a long journey across the barren, desolate, dreary desert, whether on foot or on horseback, but day after day Saul pressed on, not even staying for the burning heat of the noonday sun. At last he has almost reached Damascus, and he stands on the last hilltop, and there Damascus lies before him, in all its beauty, a city of olive groves, a city of vineyards, a city of gardens, and of flashing fountains, a city of glittering palaces and dashing rivers, a city which poets loved to sing, and of which one Persian poet says,
"Damascus is a diamond in a setting of emeralds."

But as Saul looks down on Damascus in all its far-famed beauty, he has no eye for its beauty; his only thought is that in that city are some of those accursed Christians, and he adds to himself as he stands there,
"I will soon have them in my power, and be dragging them back to be punished at Jerusalem."

He starts to press on towards the city, to do the hellish work for which he has come, when suddenly there shines round about him a marvelous light with a brightness above that of the noonday sun, and there in the midst of it he beholds the most wonderful face and form his eyes had ever gazed upon, the face and form of the glorified Christ.

Blinded by Glory.

He is blinded by the glory of it,
and falls on his face to the ground.
He hears a voice speaking to him.
"Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou Me?" and the humbled man cries back from the ground, "Who art Thou, Lord?" and back comes the crushing and overwhelming answer,
"I am Jesus whom thou persecutest."

Then, thoroughly subdued and awed, he cries back, "What wilt Thou have me to do, Lord?"

And the answer comes, "Arise, stand upon thy feet, and go into Damascus, and there it shall be told you what thou must do."
He rises to his feet, but everything is black. He turns his eyes hither and thither, but he sees nothing.
He has to hold out his hand and be led like a helpless child into the city he expected to enter as a conqueror. He goes to the house of Judas, and there for three days and three nights he shuts himself up and sees no one, neither eating, sleeping nor drinking; but still he does not yield himself to Christ.

At last, God, weary of waiting, sends His servant Ananias with the message, "Why do you not come out openly and confess Him whom you know to be the Christ?"

Men and women, God is putting the same question to you: "Why tarriest thou? Why do you not come out openly and accept Christ, and confess Him before the world as your Saviour and Lord and Master?"
I wish it were possible for me to go down from this platform, and to go from seat to seat, and from man to man, and put to every man and woman out of Christ this question:

What are you waiting for before you come out on the side of Christ?
I would have you tell me your real reason. I would have you give me an honest answer, and then I would sit down beside you with the Word of God, and show you how little there is in your reason.

If I could do that I believe I could get almost every man and woman in this building that is out of Christ to accept Him tonight. But there is no time of course for that, it would take days and weeks and months, so I am going to ask you to do the next best thing. I am going to ask every man and woman who is not a Christian to forget about every one else, and not to look at me as preaching a sermon to a multitude, but to think of you and me as being here alone in personal conversation together, face to face. Will you put to yourself this question before we begin our conversation, "What am I waiting for? Why do I not come out on the side of Christ tonight?"

Now we are going to have a few moments of silence and prayer, and I am going to ask every Christian man and woman in the room to pray that every one may be honest, and I am going to ask all of you who are not Christians put this question to yourselves: "What am I waiting for?" Let us have silence.

Will every man and woman put to themselves the question, "What is the real reason that I do not accept and confess Christ tonight; what am I waiting for?" Now I will take up your answers one by one.

To Be Convinced.

1. Some of you have said tonight,
"I am waiting until I shall be convinced; just as soon as I am convinced that the Bible is the Word of God and Jesus is the Son of God, I will accept Christ as my Saviour, and confess Him before the world." Now, I want to make an offer to every man and woman who has made that answer.

If you will come to me at the close of this meeting I will show you the way to find out that, beyond all peradventure, the Bible is God's Word, and Jesus Christ is God's Son.
Now, if you are an honest skeptic,
you will accept that offer, and if you do not accept it, never say again that you are a skeptic. You are a humbug. Of course, if you are only a trifler I have no time to waste upon you, but if you are a sincere doubter, I would rather speak with you than anybody else in the building, for I have yet to find the first sincere doubter, the first sincere agnostic, the first sincere atheist, the first spiritualist, the first Christian Scientist, the first Theosophist, who really wanted to know the truth, that I could not show the way to find it.

All over the world tonight there are men who used to be agnostics and doubters whom it has been my privilege to lead to Jesus. If you are an honest skeptic, you will accept that offer, and if you do not,
at least one good result will come of it—you will know when you go out of this hall that you are not an honest skeptic.

You say you are skeptics and agnostics; so I used to be, but I was an honest man, and when a way was pointed out I tried to see where it led, and thank God, it led out of the barrenness and desolation and darkness of utter nihilism into a clear faith that cannot be shaken, that that blessed book is God's Word, and well at night. I believe there is nothing like the 'Pinkham remedies.'"

Mrs. CLARA FRANKS, R. F. D. No. 3, Knoxville, Iowa.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and suffering women owe it to themselves to at least give this medicine a trial.
Proof is abundant that it has cured thousands of others, and why should it not cure you?

If you want special advice write to Try Olive Tablets—the Substitute for Calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the one substitute for dangerous calomel.
They do all of calomel's work without any of its bad after effects.
There is no necessity when you take Olive Tablets, of following them up with nasty, sickening, griping salts or castor oil, as you should after taking calomel.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel or any other metallic drugs;
they are a purely vegetable compound, sugar-coated, easy to take,
and never gripe or cause weakness.

Thousands of people take one every night at bedtime just to prevent disorder of the liver, constipation, bad breath, pimples, headache, etc.

The olive oil in Olive Tablets is a natural laxative as well as a healing, soothing and strengthening ingredient.

Dr. Edwards, calomel's old enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with liver and bowel troubles.

Try them for a week. Take one on retiring nightly.

All druggists sell Olive Tablets in

To Enjoy the World.

2. Well, some one else may say,
My case is different. I believe in the Bible just as much as you do, but I am waiting till I have enjoyed the world enough." There are a great many people of that kind in Paducah.
Some of them have grown old and grey in that condition.

They make the mistake of thinking that when they grow tired of the world, they can turn to Christ without any sacrifice; they think that after a while a man will grow tired of the world and give it up without an effort. What a great mistake!

The longer you live for the world
the less enjoyment you get out of it, but the tighter its grip becomes upon your shrivelling soul.

There will never be another night when it is so easy to give up the world as it is tonight. You know that is true in the case of the drinking man.

When a man begins to drink,
there is pleasure in it; the first glass of beer or of wine or of champagne has joy in it, and exhilaration in it—a man feels like two men; but as a man goes on drinking there is less and less joy, but the more complete his slavery becomes, until at last a man reaches a place, which thousands of men and women in Paducah have already reached, where they hate alcohol as much as any prohibi-tionist, but are utterly unable to give it up. They know it is robbing them of their brains, they know it is robbing them of their manhood, of the affection of their wives, and the confidence of their children. They know it is taking the bread out of their children's mouths, and the clothes from their wives' backs; yet, hating it as they do, they will take up their glass filled with liquid damnation, and drink it to the dregs.

You say, "That is true." It is just as true of the love of money. The slavery of money is as complete and as degrading as the slavery of strong drink. I would rather undertake to save ten drunkards than one money fiend, any day. When a man begins, there is pleasure in it; the first ten pounds, or the first hundred pounds, or perhaps the first thousand pounds that he lays by gives him joy; but as a man goes on accumulating, there is less and less pleasure, and at last there is no pleasure at all, but the man is the slave of the degrading lust for gold.

I was visiting a man in the State of Ohio, when I was living in Minneapolis, in the Boom days, when men were making fortunes in a day. The man to whom I refer had a comfortable fortune of about 500,000 dollars, and was now upwards of 70 years of age. One foot was in the grave, and the other foot almost over the edge. Only a few weeks before I came to see him, they had to send post-haste for the doctor to come and pull the man's other foot away from the edge of the grave.
After everybody else had gone to bed, he said to me in a low tone of voice—what do you think? "Oh," you say, "something about Heaven, something about eternity; a man with one foot in the grave and the other almost over would wish to talk about the future and what it meant for him."

But no, he leaned over and said:
"Do you know any place up in Minneapolis where I could invest my money where it would bring big interest?"

Oh, some of you men are going very fast that same road, selling your souls for damning gold. It is just the same way with the love for pleasure. The first dance, the first card party, the first theater, oh, the excitement of it and the pleasure of it and the exhilaration of it; but as one goes on the pleasure of these things becomes less and less, and more and more complete does the slavery to them become. The time will never come when you have enjoyed the world enough. Furthermore, there is more joy in Jesus Christ in 24 hours than there is in the world in 365 days. I have tried them both.

Further, suppose while you are

One night I went down the aisle almost to the far end of it, and the people were standing up singing, and I turned to a young lady and I said to her, "Why don't you become a Christian?" "Oh," she said, "I en-quoted God's word to her, "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?"

and passed on. The meetings went on, and the last night came. The last meeting had finished, and after I had returned to the house where I was staying, my hostess came to me and said, "Two young ladies want to see you; they are waiting in the other room."

I went in and one of them was the young lady of whom I am speaking.
I said to her, "Why do you want to

Oh, that those words would ring in the ears of some of you men and women until you cannot rest, until you come to the Son of God for rest and joy, which is rest and joy indeed.

Waiting for a Friend.

3. "I am waiting for a friend," says another. That is true of a great many persons. Young men are waiting for their friends, and young lu-dies are waiting for their lady friends, women are waiting for their sweethearts—one is waiting for another. What I say to you is, You come to Christ first, and bring your friends along. If your friends love you as much as you love them, when you come to Christ they will come too. It is better that you should take them to heaven with you than that they should take you to hell with them.

PADUCAH LEADS HIGH SCHOOLS

DEFEATS MADISONVILLE IN THE FIRST GAME.

Visiting Lads, However, Came Back Well in the Second Half.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL GAMES.

Paducah is in the race for the High school championship of western Kentucky as in the game Saturday the Madisonville team was defeated by a score of 20 to 11. It was the fourth victory for the Blue and White players this season, but their perfect record of not being scored on was smashed, as in a "come back" spirit the Hopkins county lads were able to push two touchdowns over.

Considering the fact that the weather conditions were better for baseball, the players put up a good game and the rooters were given a run for their money. In the first half Paducah played rings around the visitors and had the play altogether in the opponent's territory. In the second half Paducah started off well, but in a few minutes the fighting spirit of the visitors returned, and they had the fight all their way during the remainder of the game, and the local lads had to fight like demons to ward off defeat.

For the visitors' Spillman, the little quarterback, was the whole show. His running of punts, tackles and general running of the team showed him a classy player. Scott in the second half pulled off some star line plunges. For Paducah Captain Brown, Hughes, Yarbrough did good ground gaining, while Ogilvie did good defensive work in the second half. On the ends Mitchell and Humphreys at intervals did good work, while the line was weak in the second half.

In the first quarter Paducah kicked off, but soon regained the ball and on straight line plunges sent over Yarbrough for a touchdown. Goal was kicked. In the second quarter after working down the ball to the 30 yard line Hughes made a pretty place kick. A few minutes later Paducah worked the ball down to about the same place. On a clever fake Brown took the ball and while the Madisonville players stood bewildered Brown dashed over the goal line. King kicked goal. Before the quarter was over Brown carried the ball over again for the last touchdown, and Hughes kicked goal.

Second Half.

In the second half Madisonville rallied, and in a punting duel carried the ball down within two yards of goal. Paducah played vigorously, and kept them from scoring when time was called. Goal lines were exchanged and Madisonville had the ball at the start in 20 yards of goal. By steady line rushes Scott was shoved across for the first touchdown for the visitors and Spillman kicked goal. In the next kick-off Paducah lost the ball on a fumble, and Madisonville again took the ball and by repeated dashes through the line, shoved Scott across again for the second touchdown. Spillman failed at goal and the score ended 20 to 11. After that Paducah braced and took the ball up the field by leaps, but lost the pigskin, and Madisonville started for another touchdown when time was called.

Hughes was knocked out twice, but not seriously injured. Yarbrough turned his ankle. In the last tackle of the game Spillman, the plucky little Madisonville quarterback, was downed hard by F. Brown and was put out.

SAGE FOR DARKENING THE HAIR.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance, they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair with wonderful beneficial effect. Nowadays we don't have to resort to the old-time, tiresome method of gathering the herbs and making the brew. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready made product. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of Sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy. This preparation is sold by all first-class druggists for 50c, and $1.00 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

New Tuberculosis Remedy Based on Medicine

To say that a specific exists for the cure of Consumption is perhaps too strong a statement, but in Eckman's Alternative we have a medicine that has been the means of saving many a life of years of usefulness, and in permanently curing a large number of Consumptives.

Certainly a person afflicted with a wasting disease should be well fed with wholesome, nourishing food, but frequently raw eggs in quantities cause a digestive breakdown, and then no food nourishes. As for milk, a very good food for many, but a producer of biliousness for some.

Any diet that keeps a Consumptive well nourished is the right one, but what is going to cure the patient? Eckman's Alternative has cured and is curing many a case of Consumption. Let those speak who know. Here is a specimen: "On June 3, 1907, I was operated upon for Tubercular peritonitis, at St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, N. Y. After the operation, my physician gave me up as hopeless. I was then cured by a priest to take Eckman's Alternative, which I did. My weight at the time was 72 lbs. I began to improve and steadily gained in health and strength. I now weigh 125 lbs., and am absolutely cured. Believing I owe it to myself and others, I make this statement."

(Signed Affidavit) EDNA FINZER, Eckman's Alternative cures Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Affections. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to the Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence. For Sale by all leading druggists and List Drug Co., in Paducah.

TORREY'S SERMON

that town and held a prominent position, and I said to her, 'Why, you must not do it; you and I have lived very happily together for fourteen and a half years, but if you become a Christian, I have no intention of becoming one, and that will separate us for ever.'

But she said to me, 'I must be a Christian. I love you, and would do almost anything to please you, but I feel I must first please God.'

'Well,' I said, 'you become a Christian, if you feel that you want to, but you must not unite with the church.'

'She regarded my wishes in this respect, and so we went on for six months, she a Christian, and I not. Then she said to me, 'Husband, I must become a member of the church of Jesus Christ.' (Of course, if a person is converted they will never be happy out of the church.)

'Then,' her husband said, 'I was very angry, and said to her, 'If you do join the church, I want you to understand that you are nothing more to me. We have lived happily together now for fifteen years, but if you unite yourself with the church from this time on you go your way, and I shall go mine, and you will be nothing more to me.' She said, 'Husband, I love you, and I would do all I could to please you, but I must first of all please God, and I have made up my mind to unite with the church tomorrow.'

She went to her room and I went to mine. I was very angry with her. I was getting angrier all the time. I could not sleep. I heard eleven o'clock strike, and I was very angry; I heard twelve o'clock strike, and I was more angry still; I heard one o'clock, and I was angrier still; but when two o'clock came, I called out to my wife, 'Wife, I am converted.'

The husband and wife went into the church together. He became a minister of the gospel, and today he is in heaven.

If that wife had waited for him, they would have gone down to a Christless grave and a Christless eternity together. Oh, men and women, come to Christ and bring your friends with you. Even if they do not come, you come to Christ. I would start for heaven tonight, even if I had to start alone. I would rather go to heaven alone than go to hell in company. I believe that one of the darkest experiences of that dark world will be when a husband that goes there is met by the wife whom he dragged there.

In one of my pastorates a solemn thing occurred; before I had gone there, in a neighboring township there had been a great awakening, and many people had come out on the side of Christ, and one night, when the preacher extended an invitation for all those who would accept Christ to come to the front, a lady rose from her place to do so. But her husband, sitting back of her, laid his hand on her shoulder, and forced her back into her seat. She yielded to him, and she drifted away from her conviction into skepticism and blank infidelity. That is the way people become infidels, by resisting the Spirit of God.

Show me a hundred infidels, and I will show you in ninety-nine cases men who were under conviction of sin at some time or other, but who have resisted the spirit of God. This lady became an utter atheist. Some time afterwards there was a revival in the town. It caused the infidels of the town to be greatly stirred up. When we get a revival, it stirs up the infidels wonderfully.

They said, "This cannot go on. We will send off and get one of our infidel lecturers," and they got their lecturer, a follower of Ingersoll. Thank God, they did have that lecturer. People went to hear him; and when they had heard him, they said, "If that is infidelity, we do not want any of it."

While waiting for this professor, this lady said, "I can hardly wait for Professor — to get here."

She did not wait. There was a little card party being held on the Saturday night, and this lady and her friends were among the party. Eleven o'clock on Sunday night came, and they were still playing cards; at twelve o'clock they were still playing; and at one o'clock on Sunday morning—on the Lord's day—they were still playing cards. Sabbath breaking and card-playing go hand in hand, you know. About one o'clock in the morning this woman sprang to her feet, clapped her hands on her head and cried, "Oh!" and dropped dead beside the table.

I shall never forget my meeting with her husband after that awful day. I had never spoken to him before; but I happened to walk into the postoffice, and this man came in at the same time, and he came across the postoffice and held out his hand, and with a grip of despair, he took my hand in his. He knew he had sent his wife into a Christless eternity. Oh, don't wait for others; come yourself, and bring others with you.

POLL TAXES

WILL BE COLLECTED BY SHERIFF THIS YEAR.

After November 15 He Intends to Get Execution of Property of Delinquents.

Voters might as well dig up $1.50 with which to pay their poll tax as it is going to be paid this year according to the edict issued by Sheriff Houser. He is determined to reduce delinquent tax list this year, and has given his word that he will sell the property of a citizen in order to get the tax due the county and state. November 15 will be the last date for voters to pay their poll tax. After that date Mr. Houser will garnish the delinquent poll taxpayers, and force them to pay their tax. He will give every taxpayer a fair opportunity to pay the tax without the penalty, but the delinquent taxpayers will have to suffer.

GERMAN PASTOR IS INSTALLED

THE REV. H. M. WIESECKE FORMALLY INDUCTED.

Sermon Preached By the Rev. J. S. Digel, a Former Pastor.

OF THE GERMAN EVANGELICAL

With a solemn and impressive ceremony, the Rev. H. M. Wiesecke was formally installed as pastor of the German Evangelical church yesterday morning by the Rev. J. S. Digel, of Massillon, O., a former pastor of the church. Preceding the installation, the Rev. Mr. Digel preached a short sermon, regarding the duty of the pastor to the congregation, and the duty of the congregation to the pastor.

Both, he said, should be led by the spirit of God, and he emphasized the disaster that would be certain to fall upon the church should either choose to follow another spirit. Each, he said, must cooperate with the other in order that the highest effectiveness may be reached in the service of God. If you work altogether God will bless you and your church, he said. As a warning he pointed out that a church does not always slip through the world without trouble or dissension, but he called forth for the members and pastor to work diligently for God, and there will not be time for evil. He said that the church is a place for the members to receive something good for their souls, and said that the church should not be made a place for other purposes. When amusement or other things are desired he said that the people should find them at the proper places.

After the installation the Rev. Mr. Wiesecke delivered a short sermon on "The Duty of the Minister." His remarks were closely allied with the sermon of the Rev. Mr. Digel. He said that he had been a classmate or a close personal friend of all the former pastors of the church.

For the service the choir rendered special music. The morning offertory was sung by Miss Mabel Shelton.

Christ First Temptation.

"Christ's First Temptation" was the subject of the Rev. G. B. Smalley's sermon yesterday morning at the Second Baptist church. Last night he preached on the subject of "Salvation By Grace." The attendance yesterday was large.

North Twelfth Street.

Regular services were held at the North Twelfth Street Baptist church yesterday by the pastor, the Rev. J. R. Clark. Last night there was one addition. The Rev. Clark left this morning for Milburn, Ky., to conduct a protracted meeting throughout this week.

At Broadway.

The Rev. Peter H. Fields, former pastor of the Third Street Methodist church here, filled the pulpit at the Broadway Methodist church yesterday morning owing to the illness of the pastor, the Rev. G. T. Sullivan. There were no evening services.

Mission Festival.

At the German Lutheran church yesterday the Mission Festival was observed and the Rev. Martin Brueggemann, of Memphis, preached in the German language. Last night he preached in English on the subject of "True Mission Begins at Home." Communion was taken at both services and last night special music was rendered by the choir. A large collection of missions was taken.

Miss Mary Moody Parker.

Miss Mary Moody Parker yesterday spoke to the Sunday school of the First Christian church and also to the congregation at communion services. The pastor, the Rev. W. A. Fite, will return tomorrow from Kansas with his family and will fill his pulpit next Sunday morning.

Sunday School Address.

The Sunday school of the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church was addressed yesterday by the Rev. James T. Smith, of Bowling Green, Ky. Sunday school missionary for this district. A class of eight was received into the church yesterday morning and the Rev. E. B. Landis talked on consecration and revivals. A large congregation was present yesterday morning.

Tenth Street.

The attendance at the Tenth Street Christian church yesterday morning was unusually large. The Sunday school attendance was also good. No services were held last night.

night owing to the Torrey revival. The Ladies' Aid society of the Tenth Street Christian church met this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. Q. C. Wallace, Twelfth and Jackson streets.

First Baptist.

Large audiences were present at the services Sunday morning and evening at the First Baptist church. Two additions responded at the morning service by letter and one at night for baptism.

The Dodd society of the First Baptist church met this afternoon at the Baptist church headquarters on North Fifth street.

The Mite society of the First Baptist church will meet Friday afternoon with Mrs. E. B. Richardson, of South Third street.

More hard luck—this time the fault of the eastern booking office, not the weatherman—interfered with the early season at the Kentucky. This morning manager Carney received a telegram from New York, stating that bookings for Blanche Walsh are confused, and that famous star will not show here Wednesday night. This was in answer to inquiries why the advance man had not shown up, as people have been asking when tickets will go on sale. The local management has a contract, containing a two weeks' notice clause, and it is to be hoped they will be able to recoup something at the expense of the booking house.

Popular Frank Long seems to make a bigger hit in each successive run. "Band, Band, Band" went fine last week, and he has another good one to spring Monday.

Two reels of new motion pictures will be seen and good ones. Admission 10c, children, 5c. Two matinees every night and three performances every Saturday night.

A Fast Boat.

Captain Lawson was owner and pilot of the packet New Orleans, plying the Mississippi in the flush boating days of 1850. On Mississippi broke banks. There were miles of rushing water. Only an experienced eye could tell the channel. Captain Lawson has been at the wheel for 26 hours. He was exhausted from loss of sleep. Rattus, a colored pilot aboard, was called to the captain.

"Do you see that north star?" asked the captain.

"Yes, boss."

"Well, hold this box on that star."

"Yes, boss."

When the captain awoke, an hour later, his boat was winding in and out among the trees. The captain was indignant. "I thought I told you to hold this boat of the north star!" he cried.

"Lor, boss, we's done passed dat star long ago."—The housekeeper.

Roman Justice—How Technicallities Were Avoided in the Courts

The bar was an open profession in ancient Rome, the litigant enjoyed the utmost latitude in the choice of an advocate, whose rights to represent his client in court was fully conceded. Slavish imitators of the Greeks in literature and art the Romans asserted their entire independence in the domain of law. Their innovations had the stamp of originality, but these did not comprise any close connection between bar and bench.

It is noteworthy that during a very long period in the history of Roman law there was no exact counterpart of our judge. The magistrate was a public official charged with the administration of the law; the judge was a species of referee appointed by the magistrate to hear and report upon a particular case. Then there was an arbiter who acted alone, or with others, in arbitration cases (arbitra). Finally there were recuperatores who assisted in international questions.

The hearing before these various types of judges was called judicium as distinguished from just the hearing before the magistrates properly so-called. The names of citizens qualified for serving as judges were inscribed in a public record known as the album. Moreover litigants had the right of objection to a particular lar judge. Not only so, but this right was extended during many centuries, to criminals who were tried before centumvirs and decemvirs, sitting on the permanent tribunals. If the Roman Bill Sikes never thought of putting forward the demand of the English congeener that "we all ought to have a voice in making the laws as we suffer by," yet we may be well assured that he would not fail to take a sporting chance, make a prime favorite of the judges who was most reversed on appeal, and strenuously object to the others.

The point which calls for our special attention is that none of the men who discharged the various judicial or semi-judicial functions described were drawn, except in most exceptional cases, from the advocate class. Nor is it possible to conceive any arrangements more calculated than that in force in some to exclude their narrow, professional technicality from the settlement of civil cases.

The presiding magistrates of the great criminal tribunal were seldom or never men who practiced at the bar. Even in later times, when the distinction between just and judicial functions of magistrates and judges were merged in one official, there is no evidence that the bench was recruited from the bar more frequently than before.—Westminster Review.

HEAT OF RADIUM GREATER THAN COAL.

Presence of Former in Interior of Earth Probably Keeps It Warm.

Paris, Oct. 17.—Radium, Madame Curie says, represents an immense volume of heat. The radium of the world, which amounts to about 25,000 million tons, produce the same amount of heat that could be produced by three billions of arc lights, all going at once. It's probably its presence in the interior of the earth that keeps us warm.

According to this theory, the tropics, or rather the soil of the tropics, must contain a surplus of radium, while the arctic regions have none.

The German scientist, Dr. Carl Kurze, added to the above information what follows:

"One gramme of radium is equal to 400 pounds of coal; a small household could get along on 12½ grammes of radium per annum.

"A single radium mine in Cornwall produces ten tons of uranium a year. One hundredth part of its output would suffice to supply heat for a city of considerable size a whole year.

"At present people know little more of radium than its price, $24,000 a gramme. In England the price of a ton of uranium is $10,000.

"Five thousand pounds of coal cost in Europe $45. The same amount of uranium can be bought for 12½¢. If we knew enough to use uranium scientifically we could furnish a household even today with heat for 12½ cents a year."

After the latest discovery of radium-metal by Madame Curie, the question whether radium is an "element" or not is widely discussed by scientists.

DIAGNOSIS BY AUTHORITY.

In the bright sunlight on a railroad station in Georgia slept a colored brother. He snored gently with his mouth ajar, and his long, moist tongue resting on his chest like a pink plush necktie. A North-erner climbed off a train to stretch his legs, uncured the top of a capsule and, advancing on tiptoe, dusted ten grains of quinine on the surface of the negro's tongue. Presently the negro sucked his tongue back into his mouth and instantly arose with a start and looked about him wildly.

"Mistah," he said to the joker, "is you a doctah?"

"Nope."

"Well, then, kin yo' tell me whar I kin fin' a doctah right away?"

"What do you want with a doctor?"

"I'm sick."

"How sick?"

"Powerful sick."

"Do you know what's the matter with you?"

"Suttin'ly I knows what's de matter with me—mah gall's busted!"

RED CEDAR RAILS

MUCH WANTED FOR MAKING LEAD PENCILS.

Tennessee Fences Being Torn Down to Supply Deficiency in Commerce.

Nashville, Tenn.—The old-fashioned red cedar rail fences of Middle Tennessee now furnish the world's main supply of cedar pencils, according to information received here today from big pencil makers who have mills in this state's cedar district.

Statistics at hand here also indicate that these fences are the sole remaining source from which to make the best grade of the smooth whittling cedar pencil so well known to every school boy.

Descendants of the rail-splitting farmers of Abraham Lincoln's time are selling their cedar fences for what their forefathers would have considered fabulous sums.

The selling price of such a fence will build four up-to-date wire fences of equal length. In exceptional instances even better bargains have been driven.

Made Big Profit.
For example, recently in Wilson county a good sized farm which had been abandoned for agricultural purposes was bought by a speculator for $4,700, and within three months after the purchase he sold from the place $7,200 worth of cedar rails.

These fences were built principally in the half dozen of counties where once stood some of the most magnificent cedar forests on the continent.

There are still available many grades of red cedar, but pencil makers declare that the softest cutting quality of all, that known as "solid red and free from knots," is in this country, at least, almost a lost grade except in Tennessee fences.

Will Last for Years.
The mills in the district have bought up enough fences to insure pencil matter for several years at the present rate of consumption.

It is reported that farmers may soon get even higher prices for their fences, owing to the prospect of competition between pencil manufacturers for the remnants of the rail supply.

In many instances farmers have refused to sell, for the cedar rails possess remarkable durability, some of them, it is claimed, being still sound and serviceable although split nearly 100 years ago.

Dislike the Wire.
The farmers claim that they have little to gain in substituting metal for cedar, because the wire fences last only a few years at best. To overcome this objection the pencil companies sometimes offer to erect the new fences themselves.
The immediate profits to be obtained from this species of cedar pen ell farming keeps the farmers selling despite their reluctance.
And the entire object of this old industry is to obtain a wood free from the little white streaks which defect knife blades and ruffles tempers.

"It Beats All."
This is quoted from a letter of M. Stockwell, Hannibal, Mo. "I recently used Foley's Honey and Tar for the first time. To say I am pleased does not half express my feelings. It beats all the remedies I ever used. I contracted a bad cold and was threatened with pneumonia. The first dose gave me great relief and one bottle completely cured me." Contains no opiates. She Took the Right Way

By MOLLIE K. WETHERELL.

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

George Atwood was an orphan who did not remember father or mother. He lived with an uncle till that uncle died. At this time George was seventeen years old and wished to go to college, but, not knowing of any means to pay his way, was about to give it up when, the day after his uncle's funeral, he received notice from a law firm that they would pay him $1,200 a year until he was twenty-one.

This surprised him. He visited the lawyers in question, but they gave him no satisfaction concerning the source of the money they paid him except that it came from a fund left by his father for his education. He went to college and graduated when he was within a few months of coming of age.

The day he left college, while wondering what work to take up, he received a letter from an aunt whom he had never seen or heard of, telling him that he was to come to live with her. Here was another surprise. It seemed that fate was ready to take care of him, but was not inclined to give him any information ahead as to what would be done with him. He had now reached an age when he felt competent to take care of himself, but he did not have any profession or position. So he concluded to call on this aunt. He did so and found her a sister of his mother.

"Where is your baggage?" she asked. "At my lodgings."

"Send for it."

"See here, aunt, I'm getting tired of being provided for in this mysterious fashion. Tell me all about it."

"Certainly. Your mother died when you were in infancy, and your father soon followed her. They arranged for your future the day you were born. All the steps have been provided for, even as to a wife."

"A wife? Well, I like that! I shall marry whom I choose."

"That remains to be seen. It is the affair of your parents and of yourself. It does not concern me whom you marry except as regards one person. I have living with me an adopted daughter. You will be under the same roof with her and will consequently see a great deal of her. Therefore I warn you to be careful not to fall in love with her."

"Is she of royal blood?"

"Ask no questions, but do as I say."

George met Miss Harwood the same evening at dinner. She was dressed in mourning, which was very becoming to a fair complexion and hair so light that it was almost white. Her eye was a liquid brown.

"Fate," George remarked to himself, "has been kind to me, but I fear that in throwing me in the way of this girl, whom I am not to love, she has done me sufficient harm to make up for all her benefits. I suppose I shall conceive a craze for her simply because I am forbidden to do so. I wonder who has been provided for me. Ten to one she is homely and otherwise unattractive."

What was his surprise to find after becoming on intimate terms with Rebecca Harwood to hear from her that her aunt before his arrival had warned her against him as she had warned him against her. His aunt and told her that there was a business in which she (Miss Harwood) was half owner and the owner of the other half was the son of her father's partner. Her father, who had recently died, had arranged that she should marry this son and that he should conduct the business owned by the two.

So that was the reason why George was not to fall in love with Rebecca. What the deuce did his aunt mean—such being the case—by bringing him under the same roof with the young heiress? Not only did she do this, but he had not been in the house three days before she took herself off somewhere, leaving him and Rebecca alone in the house, chaperoned by an old woman housekeeper. He had nothing to do, no one to talk to but Rebecca. One might as well have put a savory dish before a hungry man and tell him not to eat it.

The result was that Rebecca and George fell desperately in love with each other and the day his aunt was to return walked off together and were married. They sent her a telegram announcing that they had spoiled the plans fate had laid for Rebecca and wished to know what next they should do. George certainly did not expect his aunt to have any consideration for him thereafter.

"An answer to the dispatch was received as follows: "Come home." They took the next train, and when they arrived the aunt met them in the hall.

"It's all your fault, aunt," George hurried to say. "I had no business to throw us together."

"Of course it's my fault, and I took pains that it should be my fault. Now listen. You are the children of two partners who wished you to marry and selected me to make a match between you. How could I do so better than by leaving you together and telling you that you were each destined for some one else? George, you will be of age in a few weeks, when you are to begin to learn the business you are to conduct."

Considering that I was left an orphan I think my affairs were well managed for me by my parents. Efforts to produce such results are usually failures.

"Flubdub says he is thinking seriously about marriage." "Why, I thought he was married two or three months ago." "So he was, but he is just beginning to think seriously about it."—Town Topics.

ENCROACHMENTS IN MECHANICSBURG

CITY ENGINEER REPORTS TO GENERAL COUNCIL.

City Refuses Bornemann Bequest of Money for Ice Water Fountains.

REGULAR COUNCIL MEETING.

Last night before the board of councilmen adjourned City Engineer L. A. Washington presenting a condition which exists in the streets in Mechanicsburg. In several instances fences and buildings extend out on the street from as much as 6 inches to 3 feet and he appealed to the board for some instructions before he begins the surveys for the construction of the concrete sidewalks.

On Clements street there is a row of trees that must be cut down and several buildings and fences that must be removed. City Solicitor Campbell said Mr. Washington should use his best judgment in making surveys and the street committee was instructed to act with Mr. Washington at once.

Both boards last night formally refused the bequest of $3,000 made by William Bornemann for the establishment of the ice water drinking fountains.

The Aldermen.
The bequest from the will of William Bornemann for the establishment of public drinking fountains was refused last night by the board of aldermen. Because of the conditions necessary to obtain the money it would be too heavy an expense for the city. One of the requirements was that the water must be cooled, which would require a large quantity of ice in the summer.

Merchants and residents on South Second street between Broadway and Kentucky avenue requested that the fifth around the market house be removed. They reported that the stench is unbearable, and the request was referred to the board of public works. It was complained that the refuse is not cleaned properly from around the market house late Saturday night, and that it is unsanitary on Sunday. The board of public works was instructed to take immediate steps towards an abatement of the nuisance.

In writing in the minutes a clerical error was made in recording the ordinance for the concrete sidewalks on Trimble street between Fifteenth and Seventeenth streets. At present it reads Fountain avenue between Trimble and Monroe streets.

Employees of the Illinois Central shops requested that the newly constructed walk across the hollow from Clark street to the north yards be repaired. The walk is composed of crushed rock, but the heavy rains washed the walk away in some places. The employees also want a bridge erected across the stream so that they may cross after a heavy rain. The request was referred to the board of public works.

The honor of being president pro tem was passed around to Alderman Van Meter last night. He kept up with the business with dispatch, and the board adjourned earlier than usual.

The street committee was instructed to get an estimate of the cost of getting right-of-way over property of the Illinois Central in order to extend Powell street to Wall street.

To the cemetery committee was referred the request of Mrs. Ollie Anderson to Dr. W. W. Wilkinson.

In a modern product. From time immemorial sage and sulphur have been used for the hair and scalp. Almost every one knows of the value of such a combination for darkening the hair and making it grow. In olden times the only way to get a hair tonic of this sort was to brew it in the home fireplace, a method which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays almost every up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready to use product, skillfully compounded in perfectly equipped laboratories. Such a preparation is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, which is sold by all leading druggists for 50c. and $1.00 a bottle, or which is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price. For sale and recommended by W. I. Gilbert.

ordered to lay water mains on Bachman street between Eighth and Ninth streets.

Citizens in the vicinity of Eighth and Bachman streets requested an are light be erected at that corner. The request was referred to the board of public works.

The saloon license of Laceyfield & company was changed from 110 South street to 112 South Third street.

The ordinance committee was directed to bring in an ordinance exempting the docks of the Ayer-Lord Tie company from city taxation for five years.

The Ohio Valley Improvement association acknowledged receipt of the annual dues from the city.

The Paducah Tannery company was given permission to operate without payment of city taxes for five years. The plant was closed several months as a result of the financial depression, and some of the city officials began to try to collect the tax.

The request of T. J. Stahl & company for exemption from city taxes for five years on the new building was referred to the ordinance committee.

The report of the finance committee was received and filed.

The minutes of the last meeting were read, approved and adopted.

Those present were: Aldermen Farley, Hank, Lackey, Oehlschlaeger, Potter and Van Meter.

The Council.
A letter from J. F. Ellison, secretary of the Ohio Valley Improvement association at Cincinnati, O., thanking the city of Paducah for the donation of $250 to the general expense fund was sent to the board by Mayor Smith and received and filed.

The ordinance committee was instructed to bring in an ordinance, exempting the Ayer & Lord Tie company from municipal taxation for a period of five years on the new dry docks to be built here at once. The plant will employ from between 30 and 50 men and the payroll will amount to approximately $5,000 per month.

Citizens on Bachman street, between Eighth and Ninth streets, petitioned the council for the extension of water mains. The communication was referred to the Paducah Water company.

To the board of public works was

Announcement To All Users of Heating Stoves in Paducah:

We want to announce that we have received word from the Cole Manufacturing Co., of Chicago, that we may sell their marvelous Cole's Hot Blast Heater on the most remarkable guarantee basis ever made by a heating stove manufacturer.

Please read the statement just as made to us by the President of the Cole Manufacturing Co.

Read What Mr. Cole Says:

"You are authorized to sell the Original Cole's Hot Blast Heater this year on the most rigid guarantee ever made by any stove manufacturer. Our guarantee to every customer of yours is—

- "1—A saving of one-third in fuel over any lower draft stove of the same size, with soft coal, slack or lignite.
- "2—That Cole's Hot Blast will use less hard coal for heating a given space than any base burner made with the same size fire pot.
- "3—That the rooms can be heated from one to two hours each morning with the soft coal or hard coal put in the stove the evening before.
- "4—That the stove will hold fire with soft coal from Saturday night until Monday morning.
- "5—A uniform heat day and night with soft coal, hard coal or lignite.
- "6—That every stove will remain absolutely air-tight as long as used.
- "7—That the feed-door is and will remain smoke and dust-proof.

"All we ask is that the stove shall be operated according to directions and set up with a good flue.

(Signed) "COLE MANUFACTURING CO."
(Makers of the Original Patented Hot Blast Stove.)

This is a wonderful guarantee to users of heating stoves. It is just what our customers want and is a guarantee from one of the great manufacturers and puts us in the lead of all dealers.

We know Cole's Hot Blast from A to Z.

It is the Original Hot Blast Stove now imitated by so many other manufacturers. It is the patented features giving an everlasting air-tight and gas-tight construction and the patented Hot Blast draft as Cole uses it, burning the waste gases in the coal that makes Cole's Hot Blast the greatest fuel saver ever known, while imitations fail.

We know 60,000 are sold every year. The biggest selling heater made, by all odds.

It is a wonder. It has proved by years of use that no heater at twice the price approaches it for radiating heat, for holding fire, requiring so little care, never giving trouble—and cutting down the coal bill one-third to one-half.

And the price of heat for the winter is what determines the cost of a stove. Remember that. Right here we want to say that

Our Price of Cole's Original Hot Blast is $10 and upward, according to size

Please remember, readers, that we are guaranteeing this stove against any heater, size for size, at any price.
We guarantee our 18-inch (diameter) Cole's Hot Blast just as stated in the letter from Cole Manufacturing Co. We sell all sizes. Price according to size.

One season's use will cut your fuel bill in two and give you satisfaction such as you never believed possible with a heater. Will you come in and see?

Other Business.

James S. Caldwell was granted permission to connect his property with the sewer near Sixteenth street and Broadway on motion of Councilman Mayer. Other property owners have been connecting with the sewer.

A petition from the Illinois Central shop employees, asking that the city repair the new walk which was built from the end of Clark street to the shop grounds and that the bridge be raised four feet and railings be built on it was referred to the board of public works with power to act. The walk was badly damaged by the recent heavy rains.

Mrs. S. A. Cook was granted a deed to a lot in Oak Grove cemetery on receipt of $75 by the treasurer. The cemetery committee was instructed to investigate the request of Mrs. Alice Anderson to transfer the south half of her lot No. 8, block "B" in Oak Grove cemetery to W. W. Wilkerson.

Councilman Leigh reported that the new book of city ordinances would be ready in a few days.

On motion of Councilman Barnett the street committee was directed to ascertain the cost of extending Powell street, Mechanicsburg, over the Illinois Central right of way to connect with Mill street.

The council concurred in the action of the aldermen in exempting the Paducah Tanning company from taxation for 5 years.

Councilman Barnett was excused from voting at his request, he being a stockholder in the enterprise which was started in 1907.

Merchants and residents on Second street between Broadway and Kentucky avenue sent in a petition complaining of the filthy condition of the street around the market house. City Health Officer S. Z. Holland said the street should be flushed every day properly. The matter was placed in the hands of the board of public works with power to act.

By a vote of 8 to 4 a resolution, permitting E. Farley to build a concrete pavement in front of his store in Mechanicsburg of equal height with the floor of the store, was lost. The motion of Councilman Lally to place the resolution on first passage received the following vote: Nays—Foreman, Barnett, Duvall, Hannin, Horton, Kreutzer, McCarthy and Wilson.
